365 Enemy Are Killed in Mekong Delta

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese soldiers fighting in the heat and mud of the Mekong Delta badly mauled a Viet Cong force of about 1,500 men and won the greatest one-day battle of the delta war, military headquarters said today.

The battle against three Viet Cong battalions began Friday morning and cost the enemy 365 dead before the day was out. During the night, the Viet Cong slipped from the battlefield in small units but after sunrise today turned again to fight closely pursuing South Vietnamese rangers.

Only sketchy details, and no casualty figures, were available on today's fighting.

Initial battle reports said 60 government soldiers were killed and 102 wounded Friday before the enemy was encircled by armored columns and pinned down after being flushed from the sanctuary of the U-Minh forest 100 miles south of Saigon.

3 Americans Wounded

Three American advisers with the Vietnamese troops were reported wounded. Normally about three Americans accompany a South Vietnamese battalion on field operations.

The U.S. Military Assistance Command Vietnam (MACV) was exultant over the showing of the frequently criticized South Vietnamese army. Today's MACV communique said, "the ARVN (Army of the Republic of Vietnam) had a smashing victory in the delta yesterday. It was the biggest single day in delta history."

The communique said no American ground units were involved, although American pilots flew more than half the day's 50 air strikes that accounted for about one-quarter of the Viet Cong casualties.

The South Vietnamese troops came from the 21st Division, one of the army's best rated units, and a reserve striking force of rangers. At the peak of the fight there were about five South Vietnamese battalions in the battle—about 2,500 men.

They were pitted against veteran Viet Cong units that evidently had been flushed out recently by young recruits. South Vietnamese headquarters reported that many of the Viet Cong bodies found on the battlefield appeared to be those of 13- to 15-year-old boys.

Latest Weapons

Associated Press correspondent George Esper, touring the battlefield today, reported the enemy had the latest type of Red Chinese weapons. U.S. advisers with the South Vietnamese troops reported some captured AD47 submachineguns were dated as recently as 1966. The South Vietnamese captured 64 weapons.

Esper reported that in today's fresh fighting, about six miles from the narrow canal which was the center of Friday's battle, the Viet Cong were holding prepared bunkers hidden beneath banana trees. These were being pounded by bombs and rockets from American and South Vietnamese jets.

The delta fighting climaxed a week of major battles across the country, almost all initiated by allied troops in which more than 1,000 Communists have been reported killed since Monday.

Sen. McCarthy Launches Bid For '68 Votes

Antiwar Candidate Gets Cheers During Stop in Madison

MADISON (AP)—Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy told a cheering student audience Friday his presidential candidacy will give Americans a "chance to make a moral judgment" on the war in Vietnam.

The Minnesota Democrat, who announced last week he will challenge President Johnson in the Wisconsin presidential preference primary, was warmly received by a student group as he kicked off his campaign in the Badger State.

McCarthy spoke at the University of Wisconsin, scene of numerous antiwar demonstrations in recent weeks.

"Our commitment in Vietnam is not justifiable in legal terms, military terms, or moral terms," McCarthy told an overflow crowd of 1,300 persons in the theater of the Memorial Union.

'First Stop'

The Minnesota senator spoke on campus after flying in from Milwaukee to launch his bid for Wisconsin's primary votes in next April's election.

"This is my first stop in any one of the states in which I plan to campaign," McCarthy told newsmen. "You might call this the beginning."

Before going to the campus, McCarthy snipped a ribbon opening his freshly painted campaign headquarters a block from the state Capitol.

"This is a better headquarters than I have in Washington," McCarthy told the manager of the headquarters, Mrs. Edward (Midge) Miller, a housewife.

At a news conference, McCarthy described his campaign against President Johnson as "necessary and proper" and volunteered that he was not clearing the way for other possible Democratic contenders, including Sen. Robert Kennedy of New York.

"I don't look upon myself as breaking the trail for Bobby Kennedy or anyone else," McCarthy said.

The senator said the administration has become "caught in the trap of escalation" in Vietnam because it did not know "what was going on."

"We ought to stop escalation and limit the bombing, at least to supply routes," McCarthy said. He added that the administration should be prepared to accept "genuine offers for negotiations."

Congressional Record

Senator Not Off Rocker

WASHINGTON (AP) — Future historians relying on The Congressional Record may never know that Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield told another senator during debate that he was off his rocker.

The historians will read a tamer exchange between Mansfield and Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, which occurred Wednesday during debate on the federal aid to education bill.

Lausche, complaining about the defeat of an amendment he sponsored, declared he had been "blitzed by orders which came down from the mountain top." In Washington, this could only mean the White House.

Mansfield replied: "I think the senator from Ohio is off his rocker."

But The Record, official journal of Congress, reports the exchange went this way:

Lausche: "I know when I am outvoted on the basis of merit and I know when I am blitzed on the basis of fear of the elections in 1968."

Mansfield: "I think the senator from Ohio is off base in making a statement to that effect."

Senators can revise the stenographic transcript of debate before it's published in The Record.

Jet Crash Kills U.S. Astronaut

Only Negro in Space Program Dies at End of Routine Flight

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — Maj. Robert H. Lawrence Jr., America's first Negro astronaut, has been killed in the crash of an F104 Starfighter jet as it landed after a routine training flight.

An Air Force spokesman for the Air Force's Aerospace Research Pilot School, was hospitalized with undisclosed injuries.

The Air Force appointed a board of officers to investigate. No other details of the crash were made public.

Maj. Lawrence

Lawrence, selected as an astronaut-designee in June, was one of 16 military officers in training for the MOL Project—the Manned Orbiting Laboratory program. The group was made up of 12 Air Force Officers, three Navy men and one Marine.

Lawrence's widow, Barbara, and their 8-year-old son, Tracey, live at the base.

Another Negro pilot, Capt. Edward J. Dwight, was selected as the first Negro to enter the space pilot training program in 1963, but he did not complete the program.

Lawrence, 31, was preparing a project for the Defense Department to orbit two men on a space laboratory in 1970.

The Chicago-born Lawrence was the ninth U.S. astronaut to die. The others were assigned to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. Five died in accidents earlier this year.

The F104, "a missile with a man in it" which travels twice the speed of sound, smashed onto a runway after the flight Friday at Edwards Air Force Base and spurted "a little fire," an Air Force spokesman said.

A second occupant, Maj. Harvey J. Royer, was injured. Royer, 36, chief of operations called him "one of those young bright guys with everything going for him."

4 Americans on Flight

67 Dead in Peruvian Crash

HUANUCO, Peru (AP) — Searchers pulled burned and mud-smeared bodies today from jungle underbrush on the rim of the Andes Mountains where a Peruvian airliner crashed in flames Friday, killing everyone aboard. Sixty-seven persons, including four Americans, were believed on the flight.

The Faucett Airlines four-engine DC6 plowed low into the side of Cerro Carpish mountain near midday, about 15 minutes after it took off from Huanuco with a load of holiday weekend passengers bound for the mountain resort of Tingo Maria.

The flight had stopped briefly at Huanuco en route from Lima, 155 miles to the north. Farmers who heard the crash later led police through thick vegetation to the wreckage scattered near a forest highway.

"Most of the bodies were burned and the others completely destroyed," said Col. Carlos Farje Allende, who led the first party to the shattered liner. Identification was difficult, he reported.

There was no explanation for the crash.

Airplane Packed

A spokesman for Faucett said the plane was believed to have carried 67 persons—six crew members, 45 passengers from Lima and 16 who boarded in Huanuco. Although all were booked to Tingo Maria, the airline said it had not determined if anyone left the plane here.

The aircraft was packed because of the Roman Catholic holiday of the Immaculate Conception. All stores and offices in the country were closed and many persons took advantage of the three-day weekend to travel.

Included in the passenger list were 17 foreigners — the four Amricans, an English diplomat and his wife, four French nationals, two Belgians and five Italians.

The Americans included Joseph Newman, 60, Las Vegas, Nev., and Robert and Corrine Houck, both 54, of Barberton, Ohio.

The fourth American killed was identified as Evelyn Craig, 47. Her address was not given.

The British Embassy identified the diplomat as John White, 40, the embassy's first secretary and consul. His wife, Vivian, was flying with him.

Crowd Jeers Protesters, Cheers Police

140 Friday Arrests Bring Total in New York to 585

NEW YORK (AP) — Crowds of shoppers, office workers and theater patrons in Rockefeller Center cheered as the police herded a group of antiwar demonstrators into a van beneath the huge Christmas tree.

One girl demonstrator, believing the crowd was applauding their stand, raised her hand in a victory sign. The cheers became jeers. One man shouted, "Throw away the key after you lock them up!"

Four days of protests ended Friday on that note. They had failed both in their original goal of closing down the Whitehall Street induction center and in gaining the popular support predicted by their leaders.

Today members of the "Stop the Draft Week Committee" met to evaluate their efforts but the failure had already been explained by one demonstrator who said simply: "Blame the cops."

Some 700 demonstrators streamed through Manhattan streets Friday, clashing with police and counterdemonstrators, disrupting sightseers and Christmas shoppers.

Police reported the arrest of 140 persons, bringing the total arrests for the week to 585. Most were charged with disorderly conduct and released without bond pending hearings.

Town's Only Doctor Really An Ex-Convict in Disguise

GROVETON, Tex. (AP) — Residents of this town of 1,300 have learned that the only doctor it ever had was really no doctor at all.

He was a former Louisiana convict who had successfully posed as a psychiatrist at a Texas state hospital, and as a doctor here he had been granted a medical license by the State of Texas.

Dist. Atty. Harold Hollingsworth said the man is Freddie Brant who used the name of a Chattanooga, Tenn., physician, Reed L. Brown.

Hollingsworth said Brant had worked at one time as a laboratory technician for Brown. Brant was charged with forgery and perjury in Kaufman County Friday. Bond was set at $25,000.

Brant was unable to post bond and remained in jail at Kaufman.

"Everybody in town practically worshipped him," said Mrs. William Bock, a licensed pharmacist, whose husband owns the only drug store in Groveton.

"I've filled prescriptions for a good many years and everything he prescribed seemed right to me," she said. "If there were ever any adverse reactions, I never knew about them."

P. M. Johnson, editor of the Groveton News, who said he was one of Brant's patients, added, "he sounded like he really knew what he was talking about."

"He knew about some medicines some of us had never even heard of," said a registered nurse at Trinity Memorial Hospital near Groveton.

Brant's medical practice ended when a Louisiana pharmaceutical company, patronized by both the Texas Dr. Brown and the Tennessee Dr. Brown, became suspicious why the real physician wanted his newest shipment of drugs sent to the Groveton Medical Clinic.

Lynda, Chuck Set for White House Wedding

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson walks his daughter, Lynda Bird, down the red-carpeted, marble halls of the White House today into the history books as the 14th White House bride.

The great presidential mansion was aglow with red and white flowers, mistletoe and a Christmasy atmosphere for its first wedding of a president's daugher in 53 years.

In the great gold and white East Room, 240 twinkling white candles sparkled amid an evergreen backdrop for a simple white altar that waited for Lynda, 23, and her bridegroom, Marine Capt. Charles S. Robb, 28, to exchange vows of holy matrimony.

Knowles' Highway Bill

Committee OKs Random Checks

MADISON (AP) — A Senate-Assembly committee has agreed on a bill increasing the State Highway Patrol by 75 men and establishing a statewide system of random vehicle safety inspections.

The group, composed of three members of each house, held its first meeting Friday to begin working out legislative differences over the highway safety measure.

Both proposals were a controversial part of Gov. Warren P. Knowles' highway safety bill defeated last July by the Assembly.

Civilian Inspectors

They agreed tentatively to add 75 patrolmen, 18 of whom would head vehicle inspection checkpoints aided by 36 new civilian inspectors.

The group also agreed to a random system of inspections, with motorists having the option of volunteering at a safety station for examinations of their automobiles.

The Senate earlier had voted to allow the state to license private garages to do the voluntary inspections, but the Assembly refused to drop its objections to the plan.

When the group reaches agreement, it will draft a new bill to be submitted to the Legislature. The new measure could be accepted or defeated, but not amended.

Ripon Student Killed in Crash

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A Fond du Lac County accident has raised Wisconsin's 1967 highway fatality toll to 1,053 today compared with 1,048 on this date in 1966, a record year for traffic deaths in the state.

Walter L. Nielsen, 18, of Oak Park, Ill., a student at Ripon College, died late Friday when his car crashed beside a State 44 curve at the edge of Ripon.

Richard Miller, 24, of Maribel in Manitowoc County, died Thursday when his auto overturned near Denmark and burst into flames. Brown County authorities said the accident occurred at the intersection of State 96 and a county trunk road.

Rockets Spurt Past Jays in Final Quarter

BY GEORGE MANCOSKY

MENASHA — Neenah High School took advantage of Menasha's fourth period field goal problems to build a substantial lead and an eventual 48-44 Mid-Eastern Conference triumph in the 81st league meeting between the long-time rivals Friday night.

In notching their second straight conference victory (and their 18th spanning parts of three campaigns), the Rockets found themselves hooked up in a 31-all deadlock at the close of three segments but hit the first four points of the fourth and proceeded to garner eight of the first 10 and 12 of the initial 16.

Menasha, now 1-1 in M-E play, didn't put the ball through the rim from the floor until 25 seconds remained in the game when with the Red and White in command, 46-39, Chuck Gilbert broke in for a layup. Tim Gressler hit on a jump shot with seven seconds remaining for the only other fielder of the quarter.

Miss Nine Shots

The Menashans, who missed their first nine field goal attempts, several of which were layups, remained within range by hitting a perfect 9-for-9 from the free throw line. The Rockets didn't do bad either, putting in seven of eight plus five of 10 field tries.

The game's pattern was set early and held firm throughout.

Two Rivers '5' Beats Shawano

TWO RIVERS — The Two Rivers Raiders surprised Shawano, 63-59, Friday night to score their first win of the basketball season.

The Raiders overcame a 37-28 halftime lead to post their first win in two Mid-Eastern Conference starts and first in five games, over-all. A wide rebounding edge spelled the difference.

Tom Turman, with 16 points, led the Raiders, and Steve Sonntag added 12. Leon Penass and Bill Gipp each had 19 points for Shawano.

Springs Bows

Five Chuters Score Double-Figure Totals In 62 to 54 Victory

BY TOM VANDER PAS
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

LITTLE CHUTE — The presence of St. Peter in Fond du Lac Springs' lineup wasn't quite enough for the Ledgers here Friday night, as five Dutchmen scored in double figures en route to a 62-54 Fox Valley Catholic Conference victory for the Chuters.

That's John St. Peter, deadeye Ledger forward, who meshed 10 field goals and a pair of charity tosses to lead all scorers with 22 points.

His individual display was more than offset by "Oscar" Schuler and Rick Van Roy who hit 18 and 13 markers, respectively, for the winners, including 15 between them in the opening period, to forge St. John into an 18-14 advantage.

St. Peter canned two swishers for Springs at the start of the next canto, knotting the count at 18-all and, with about 2:00 left before halftime, notched his fifth 2-pointer of the frame to put the Ledgers in front for the last time at 27-26.

First Start

Jerry Verhagen, in his first starting assignment for the Dutchmen, coined three field goals in that same period, including a pair just prior to intermission, to give the Chuters a 32-29 lead.

John Leiterman, in a third-quarter relief role for the hosts, contributed eight quick points to their cause and helped boost the St. John margin to a more comfortable, 46-39, at period's end.

The game was played on about even terms the rest of the way, highlighted by the ball-handling of the Chuters' Gary Vande Hey and the ever-present St. Peter who netted eight more tallies for the losers.

Following Schuler and Van Roy in the Dutchmen scoring column were Vande Hey with 11 points and Verhagen and Leiterman with 10 each.

Jim Colwin's 13 markers took runner-up honors for Springs.

St. John converted 29 of 68 shots from the floor for 43 per cent, while the Ledgers did almost as well on 22 successes in 59 tries for a 37 per cent mark.

The winners, in bringing their conference record to 1-1, attempted only seven free throws, making four of them, while Springs, now 0-2 in loop play, hit on 10 of 19 tries from the charity line.

ST. JOHN — (18 14 14 16—62) Schuler 9 0 2; Vande Hey 5 1 2; Verhagen 4 2 2; Van Roy 6 1 4; Weyenberg 0 0 5; Leiterman 5 0 1. Totals 29-4-16.

SPRINGS — (14 15 10 15—54) St. Peter 10 2 0; Shaw 3 2 0; Schraufnagel 4 1 3; Colwin 5 3 0; Basler 0 2 1; Walgenbach 0 0 2. Totals 22 10 6.

Titans Blast Stout, 112-84

Oshkosh Only Unbeaten Team In the WSUC

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Defending champion Oshkosh became the only unbeaten team in the Wisconsin State University Conference Friday night as the Titans overwhelmed Stout 112-84 while Stevens Point gunned down Eau Claire 88-73.

The Titans, now 3-0 and 2-0 in the league, got 27 points from Ron Hayek in spoiling Stout's conference debut. Stout is 1-2 over all.

The Pointers, losers to Oshkosh last week, handed Eau Claire its first setback of the campaign after an opening game victory. Mike Hughes scored 24 points for Stevens Point, now 1-3 over all. He also collected 18 rebounds.

Evens Record

Platteville with 19 points each from Doug Knutson and Guy Gust evened its conference record at 1-1 and upped its overall record to 2-2 with a 103-79 win over River Falls. Steven Gustafson scored 15 for the Falcons, now 0-1 in the league and 2-2 overall.

Don Paulsen scored 18 to lead Whitewater to its second win in three starts as the Hawks defeated Superior 105-61 in the conference opener for both teams. Superior is 1-2 in the season.

La Crosse, a 90-88 winner over Platteville in its only league start so far, fell before Northern Illinois 88-66 in a non-conference game. Mike Grainger scored 16 points and Joel Hafner 15 for the losers, now 1-2 over all.

In games tonight, Eau Claire faces Oshkosh, Superior travels to Platteville, Stout visits Stevens Point and River Falls is at Whitewater.

Papermakers Deal Truckers 77-50 Defeat

BY ED VAN BERKEL
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

KIMBERLY — The Kimberly Papermakers remained undefeated Friday night by rolling to a convincing, 77-50 win over the Clintonville High School Truckers despite a slow and shaky start.

A strong defense, plus numerous turnovers by the Truckers, enabled the hosts to prevent an early Clintonville lead from going out of hand.

The visitors jumped off to a 12-7 first quarter lead, hitting on five of 12 floor shots and controlling both backboards. Kimberly managed only three buckets in 15 attempts in the period, two by Paul Van Grinsven and one by Wayne Swokowski. Mark Paape, John Torberg, Ray Grant and Bob Rew accounted for the Clintonville points in the period.

The Truckers lost the ball seven times without getting off a shot in the frame, while the Papermakers were guilty of two turnovers. Kimberly utilized a zone defense to keep the Truckers from working in for good shots, but occasional lapses permitted a man to break free under the bucket. The losers employed a press defense fairly effectively in the period.

Clintonville continued to set the pace for the first few minutes of the second period, but Bill Lamers and Jeff Vanden

Terror '5' Edges Patriots; Pennings Stuns Hawks

West's Late Surge Nets 45-41 Win

BY JOHN L. PAUSTIAN
Post-Crescent Sports Editor

For a few delirious moments, it was last March all over again for the Dick Emanuel-coached Appleton West Terrors Friday night.

The Terrors, an amazing state tournament team nine months ago, continued their surprising antics in the current season by upsetting Appleton East, 45-41, in a furiously-fought intracity tussle. West fans accorded the 1-letterman Terrors full "tournament" treatment — including impromptu free transportation off the Seims Gym court.

Though it is far too early in the 1967-8 campaign for tourneys, it was truly "December Madness" as the Terrors went one up in their scheduled 3-game series with the Bill Morse-coached Patriots.

The lead changed hands a dozen times, as a near-capacity crowd roared at the non-stop excitement. The 12th and final exchange came with 2 minutes, 8 seconds remaining, as Carl Hunt drilled in a 10-foot baseline shot to turn a 37-36 deficit into a 38-37 lead. The Terrors pitched in five more straight points to pull away, at 43-37, with only 55 seconds left.

Second in Row

AHS-W used superlative defensive play to drop a team out of the Fox River Valley Conference's unbeaten ranks for the second straight time. Last week, Fond du Lac fell, 53-40. Last night, the Terrors' aggressive 2-3 zone (and occasional press) limited the Patriots to 11 baskets and a 25 per cent shooting average.

The Terros who meet unbeaten Sheboygan North in Seims gym tonight, now own a 2-1 league record and a 2-2 mark, over-all AHS-E, which invades Sheboygan South this evening, is 1-1 in the FRVC and 2-1 for the season.

Tom Hintz and Carl Hunt provided West's point power last night, with 15 and 14, respectively. Hintz, who entered the game with a 19-point average was blanked by the close-guarding Patriots until he scored from the corner with 56 seconds left in the second quarter for a 17-15 halftime lead. Hintz showed his class under pressure in the second half, as he swished six of 13 field shots.

The much-improved Hunt accounted for three of his team's four first-quarter baskets and flipped in a pair of key goals in the final period.

Reichelt Scores 12

The ever-improving Blane Reichelt, who played intramural ball last season, led East with 12 points. Tom Jones and Gary Bleier added 10 apiece.

The Patriots had trouble getting the ball to the 6-foot-five Jones in the first half — he had only five shots and missed them all. Jones sank three of eight field shots in the second half, but his 10 point total was only

Racine Falls, 52-45

FVL Scores First Win of Season

BY MARTIN STEFFEL
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

The law of averages, with a great deal of help from Fox Valley Lutheran High, finally caught up with Racine Lutheran as the Foxes defeated the Crusaders, 52-45, here Friday night.

It was great team play, plus the return of Mark Bootz to the lineup that produced the first win of the srason for FVL.

Bootz' floor play was outstanding, and his four baskets in the third period gave the Foxes a second half lead which they never relinquished. A 19 point first period and sharp defense and ball handling clinched the win. Beck Goldbeck, 6-7 FVL center, hit three buckets and Tim Johnson added four last period free throws to pace the ofense.

In the first period, the Foxes immediately exerted strong offensive pressure and used a good zone press to take a 21-7 lead. Racine hit only two baskets and was 3-6 at the line.

Resort to Press

Desperately attempting to get back into the game, the Crusaders resorted to a press in the second period and gained the intiative. Racine hit nine straight points (6:50-4:47), before Doug Potter cashed a gifter for FVL to make it 22-17. Both sides traded points before Racine grabbed the lead with 1:10 left on Dave Back's shot from underneath. Back's third hooper of the period gave the Crusaders a 26-25 halftime lead.

Bootz, who scored only five points in the first half, netted four shots in the third period and did a great job in ballhandling as the Foxes finally got back the lead. John Hannemann's layup with 14 seconds left made it 35-34 FVL, and Bootz laid it in with three seconds left to give the Foxes a lead they never surrendered.

From the start of the fourth period until 3:14 left, the Foxes hit 10 points to only five for

Fund Started For Injured Badger Star

MADISON (AP)— University of Wisconsin Athletic Director Ivan Williamson announced Friday that a fund has been set up for football star Mel Walker, whose left leg was amputated below the knee Wednesday after he suffered an injury in the Badgers' final football game of the season.

Walker, a sophomore defensive back, lost the leg in an operation performed at a Minneapolis hospital, after complications set in.

Williamson said contributions for the Mel Walker Trust Fund may be sent to the Wisconsin Athletic Department, 1440 Monroe St., Madison, Wis., 53706.

The athletic director said his department is paying for Walker's medical care. The 20-year-old student's scholarship will be continued by the department through his senior year.

Squires Hit 61 Per Cent, Win, 85-60

Post-Crescent News Service

DE PERE — Yes, De Pere Abbot P ennings is for real.

Coach Don Laviolette's Squires are definitely not a weak sister in the Fox Valley Catholic Conference and they proved it at Van Dyke Gym Friday night.

The Squires, in the role of David, rose up and pummeled highly touted and previously undefeated Appleton Xavier, (Goliath) 85-60.

Pennings was figured to be weak this year with only one player back with varsity experience but the Squires gave it everything they had and were in control of the game all the way.

"We were just hot. The kids were sky high for ame and played real fine ball. We made very few mistakes. We did everything right," an exhuberant Laviolette said after the game.

A downcast Coach Gene (Torchy) Clark commented in the dressing room, "The best team won by 25 points, they're one of the best teams I've seen. Everybody's going to be happy now."

The Squires were unbelievable . . . they sank 30 of 49 shots from the floor for 61 per cent, compared to 32 per cent for the Hawks. They stole the ball 23 times and they outrebounded Xavier, 39-30, despite the fact that Xavier had a distinct height advantage with Bob Fullarton, 6-7, and Tom Thompson, 6-5.

Dan Olsen, a 6-1 senior who played Jayvee ball last season, rimmed 34 points for the Squires on 14 baskets and six gift tosses and John Albers stole 11 Hawk passes. In addition Olsen was the top Squire rebounder with 10.

How come? What happened? "Where we beat them was where we thought we would have to beat them, on the boards. Every time they would shoot, we would have five men clawing after the ball," Laviolette said.

The Squires are 4-1 overall and 2-0 in the loop. Xavier is now 6-1 and 2-1 in the conference.

It was the most points ever scored against a Hawk team. Xavier had won 12 straight conference games and eight straight, over-all, in two seasons.

Xavier held 2-0 and 4-2 leads in the first two minutes of play,

Marquette '5' Triumphs Over South Dakota

Thompson Scores 27 Points in 89 to 65 Victory

Associated Press Sports Writer

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Coach Bob Mulcahy didn't have to deliberate when asked why his South Dakota basketball team was outclassed by Marquette Friday night, 89-65. "That Thompson, said Mulcahy. "He's just remendous."

Was Mulcahy referring to the 27 points that George Thompson scored for the Warriors? No, he wasn't.

"His board play. That was really something. More than any other factor that was what led to our downfall," said Mulcahy.

Thompson, who scored 12 field goals on 24 shots, grabbed 13 rebounds, which was six more than any of his teammates hauled in. South Dakota's Jack Theeler, who scored 25 points, led the Coyotes with eight rebounds.

'They're Patient'

Mulcahy was impressed by more than just the 6-foot-2 Thompson. "They're a tremendous team. They have great second, third and fourth effort on the boards. They're patient working the ball. They wait for the good shots and they don't rush things."

Patience paid off early as South Dakota threw up a zone defense. Marquette, which has been troubled in past seasons by the zone, got eight early points off the fast break and 12 more on baskets from the outside to jump off to a 24-14 lead.

The Coyotes were still within 10 at halftime 43-33. But Marquette, with Thompson and Pat Smith doing the damage from inside and Jim Burke and Brad Luchini from outside, outscored the visitors 10-2 in the opening minutes of the second half to end any doubt about the outcome.

Smith finished with 17 points, Burke with 14 and Luchini with 11.

The game, Marquette's second against less than top drawer competition, ended the early phase of the Warrior schedule. "Air Force will be the first test," said Coach Al McGuire.

The Falcons meet the Warriors, now 2-0, next Monday night.

In the preliminary game, Marquette sensation Dean Meminger pulled off a three-point play in the final 26 seconds to give the Warriors a 80-77 victory over a talented Notre Dame yearling team.

Meminger, who clinched the game seconds later with a key defensive play, scored 26 points for the Warriors, who overcame a 14-point deficit in the second half for the victory. Austin Carr of Notre Dame scored 29.

Memmelaar Placed On Colt Active List

BALTIMORE (AP) — Offensive guard Dale Memmelaar was activated Friday by the Baltimore Colts, replacing the retired Jim Parker on the 40-man roster of the National Football League club.

Memmelaar, a nine-year veteran, had been practicing with the Colts' reserve squad.

Allen Jacobs Reactivated By Giants

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York football Giants, who have been operating one below the 40-man limit, reactivated fullback Allen Jacobs Friday.

Jacobs, who was put on a four-week injury waiver list after hurting a hip in mid-season, will be available for Sunday's game with the Detroit Lions.

The six-foot, 215-pound former Green Bay player, the No. 2 ground gainer in 1966, was the Giants' regular fullback at the start of the season but was beaten out later by Tucker Frederickson, now sidelined for the season with a knee injury.

Jacobs will back up Ernie Koy, who was moved into the fullback slot after Frederickson's injury. Koy has a sprained right ankle but is expected to start against the Lions.

Vock and Spice Pace 88-64 Win

Kaukauna Cagers Beat New London

BY ROGER PITT
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

NEW LONDON — Dennis Spice and Ron Vock combined for 54 points to lead the Kaukauna Ghosts to an 88-64 victory over the Bulldogs on the New London High School hardwood Friday night.

Spice, a jumping jack forward, zeroed in from long range in the first half and paced the Ghosts to a narrow, 39-37 advantage at the intermission. Nearly all of Spices' shots were of 20 feet or longer, as he scored 18 of his 26 markers in the opening half.

Vock took game scoring honors with 28 points — 23 of them coming in the second half. The speedy guard counted most of his points on lay-ups after Kaukauna got New London on the run early in the third period.

The victory was the first in Mid-Eastern Conference play for coach Ken Vandervelden's Ghosts. Kaukauna is 2-3 over-all. New London is 0-2 in conference play and 1-4 on the year.

Take 29-28 Lead

A short jump shot by John Kaepernick gave the Bulldogs a 29-28 lead with 3:14 left in the first half and set the stage for a wild climax of the first half. Baskets by Dick Carstens and Vock gave Kaukauna a 39-37 advantage at intermission.

The Bulldogs' victory hopes were soon smashed as Mark Taetro hit on a lay-up with 15 seconds gone in the third stanza. New London countered with a basket by Gary Slosarek but their shooting eyes closed and the Bulldogs rebounding slipped badly from that point as Spice poured in two long field goals to open up a six point lead.

Carstens capitalized on a 3-point play to put the final skid under the Bulldogs as Vock took over the scoring load.

Greg Wing paced the Bulldogs with 18 points, all but two free throws coming in the first half. Bill Rieckmann chipped in with 15.

Carstens gave the Ghosts added scoring balance with a 16-point output and paced the rebounding team of Carstens, Spice, Vock and Taetro. Kaukauna missed only nine of 15 charity tosses while the Bulldogs converted 16 of 19 gift shots.

half of his pre-game average. Rick Stach, another top AHS-E scorer, was held to two points.

AHS-W got off 16 more shots than East — 60 to 44 — and the Terrors sank seven more goals (18 to 11). Free throws kept the Patriots in the contest, as they zeroed in on 19 in 26 tries — including nine straight in the first half. West managed to drop only nine of 23 from the foul line.

West led for the entire first period. Both teams tried a total of only five shots in the first 3 04 as players were cautious and nervous. To a certain extent the emotionalism inherent in the first basketball meeting of the crosstown rivals contributed to the shooting troubles and frequent turnovers which followed.

There was never a dull moment, though. The heat was really turned up in the second quarter when East took its first lead, 11-10, on two Bob Meyer free throws

East boosted the margin to 15-10 — its biggest lead of the game. But Mark Schroeder, who made his best showing of the season, got inside East's 1-2-2 zone for two quick baskets to set off a 7-point West spree for a 17-15 halftime edge

In the see-saw third quarter, the score was tied three times (at 17, 20 and 22) and the lead bounced between the combatants like a hot protato. Bleier tossed in a circus shot at the buzzer to give East a 29-28 edge going into the pay-off period.

Hintz meshed three straight launchings at the outset of the last quarter to give West a 34-31 edge, and Ade Dillion's corner goal made it 36-31. But, within two minutes, the Patriots had battled back in front, 37-36. Jones sank two free throws. Rick Stach scored his only basket of the night (on a fast break) and Meyer sank a pair of free throws.

Passes to Hunt

The Terrors took a permanent lead, however, as the hustling Dillon drove toward the basket, passed off to Hunt at the last moment, and Carl fired in the go-ahead goal.

Meyer fouled out with 1:31 to play, and Catlin sank one of two free throws that were made available by the foul. Hunt then produced a 3-point play, for a 42-37 lead. Dillon's free throw widened the margin to six points, with 55 seconds left.

Bleier's two free throws cut the margin, but Hintz got it back on a lay-up for a 45-39 lead with only 20 seconds left. Two Bleier free throws ended the scoring, with 14 seconds remaining.

Michigan Tech Tops Badger '6'

MADISON (AP)—Brian Watts scored three goals, including one in the final 52 seconds that gave unbeaten Michigan Tech a 6-5 come-from-behind hockey victory over Wisconsin Friday night.

The Badgers, getting goals from five players, built a 5-2 lead in the second period, then wilted. Tech tied the score early in the final frame and put over the clincher near the final buzzer.

Dodgeville Upsets Platteville Quintet; Manitowoc Triumphs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Quick-draw Dennis Brown got off one of the longest shots in the Southwest and knocked Platteville's Hillmen off one of the highest pinnacles in Wisconsin high school basketball Friday night.

Brown's 50-footer with only two seconds left brought Dodgeville into a tie at the end of the regulation with Platteville and the Dodgers went on to a 49-47 overtime victory.

It was a Brown free throw that broke the tie in overtime. Brown scored 25 points.

The loss was Platteville's first in 30 regular season games, the first in the Southwest Athletic League in 24 games and the first loss at home since early in the 1963 season.

Dodgeville was the culprit that year and went on to win the state championship at the Madison tournament.

Hillmen ace John Steffen had given Platteville a two-point lead with two free throws. Dodgeville got a crack at a last shot and missed and the Hillmen took the ball back and went into a stall.

Pass Goes Awry

Then a pass went awry. "Everybody seemed to think the game was over. Nobody reacted," explained Dick McKichen, the Platteville coach. Nobody but Brown who picked up the ball, took aim and let go from his side of half court. "It was a perfect swish," said McKichen.

The game was one of two major surprises. DePere Pennings supplied the other as it stole the ball 23 times from a shocked Appleton Xavier team and sent the previously unbeaten Hawks down to a humiliating 85-60 defeat.

Milwaukee North, the team some consider the likely state champion this season, survived a scare but managed an 82-76 overtime victory over Milwaukee Tech to take over first place in the Milwaukee City Conference. Bruce Meredith scored 27 points for the winners.

In other games, Alma ran its regular season winning streak to 66 games with a 78-52 win over supposedly strong Gilmanton. Manitowoc, the emerging power of the Fox River Valley conference, whipped Green Bay Southwest 79-50.

The Big Eight Conference remained with a traffic jam at the top as Kenosha Tremper dropped Madison Central 93-58. Racine Park beat Racine Case 72-62. Beloit beat Madison Memorial 62-41. Madison La Follette overcame Janesville Craig 57-47, and Janesville Parker defeated Madison East 68-49 All five teams are unbeaten in league play.

Schofield, the power of the Wisconsin Valley, won its sixth game in as many starts, taking the measure of Stevens Point 88-59.

Neenah, the wheel of the Mid-Eastern Conference, beat Menasha 48-44 in a scare. Wausau, the state's No 2 team last season, clipped Chippewa Falls 67-45.

In another Big Rivers Conference match, La Crosse Central behind a 40-point spree by John Ford downed Menomonie 96-72.

Madison Edgewood, a leading independent, remained unbeaten with a 92-65 win over Richland Center.

Kohler, which is averaging 95 points a game, won its sixth straight, beating Cedar Grove 95-78.

Among the top individual performances was a 42-point torrent by Rick Habeck of Athens. Jeff Semenes scored 34 points for North Fond du Lac and Andy North, state golf champion, got the same number for Monona Grove in a losing effort.

but from then on it was all the Squires. Pennings took the lead for keeps at 6-5 on two gift tosses by Olsen and Steve Schuh, who scored 19 points, sank a basket and Albers, who rimmed 10, hit a 25-footer to give Pennings a 10-5 lead.

Late in the frame, the Squires scored eight straight with Chuck Benkendorf getting three of them, and took a 24-9 first period lead. Benkendorf finished the game with 14 points and was the fourth Squire in double figures.

Xavier's top point makers were Pat Fitzgerald, with 21, and Mike Clark, with 16. The Hawks could not penetrate the Squire defense and did most of their scoring from outside.

After jumping off the big lead in the first period, the Squires refused to let up and mounted a 44-24 halftime lead and had the Hawks down, 61-38, going into the final frame where they again outscored Xavier, 24-22

Winneconne Defeats Shiocton

Wrightstown Upsets Brillion, 64 to 52

Wrightstown, Omro, Reedsville, Winneconne and Hortonville scored Little Nine wins Friday evening.

All lodged their second victories against no losses in the conference except Hortonville and Wrightstown who are 1-1.

The Wrightstown Tigers recaptured a lead which they had lost the first half and held off a fourth quarter comeback attempt by the Brillion Lions for a 64-52 upset Friday night.

The Tigers, led by Tom Ribarchek's 26 points, came back onto the floor the second half with a ball game and moved to a 19-point advantage before the comeback effort.

Tim McDaniel added 19 for the winners who shot 60 per cent from the floor the last two stanzas. Ron Hanson had 16 for Brillion.

Balanced Attack

A balanced attack enabled Omro to defeat Freedom, 71-58. Omro had four of its starters in double figures. Freedom outscored Omro in only one quarter, the second, 18-17. Omro took a 31-26 lead at the half and were never seriously threatened in the second half.

Joe Jungwirth led Omro with 19 points Steve Hoeft followed Jungwirth with 18 markers The losers were led by Dan Vande Wettering with 14.

A blistering second half shooting spree, led by senior center Greg Ebert's 27 points, gave Reedsville a convincing 99-66 win over Denmark.

Denmark kept within range of the victors, trailing by only eight points at halftime, until Ebert went on a binge and garnered game honors with 31 points.

Don Barnard added 15 for the fast - breaking Reedsville five while John Roberts had 20 and Wayne Krueger 16 for the losers.

Winneconne took an 11-5 lead at the end of the initial stanza and was never trailing as the Wolves defeated Shiocton, 69-60. Winneconne held a 26-24 halftime lead and a 48-40 third period lead. Shiocton closed the gap to 60-56 with about two minutes remaining, but the Wolves pulled away.

Tom Christianson led the winners with 23 points. Shiocton was led by Gary Johnson, who tallied 18.

Hortonville, doing a fine job on the boards, scored a 56-44 victory over Hilbert. Neither team was able to find the range consistently until the fourth quarter when the Polar Bears started to hit.

Dave Riggles and Dennis Nagreen led Hortonville with 12 points apiece. Hilbert was paced by Joe Weinreis with 16.

Kimberly Still Undefeated

Heuvel led a rally for the winners which saw the score tied, at 17-all, on a basket by Vanden Heuvel with 3:17 remaining in the period. Terry Olson moved Clintonville back into the lead with a bucket, but Don Hagany countered for Kimberly to again knot the score.

A free throw by Torberg and basket by Olson gave Clintonville its last lead of the game at 22-21. Van Grinsven hit on two quick baskets followed by buckets by Hagany and Lamers and two free throws by the latter to boost Kimberly to a substantial lead.

Rew connected on two free throws just before the period ended to give the Papermakers a 31-24 lead at halftime. The Truckers scored only three baskets in 14 attempts in the period and were guilty of seven turnovers while Kimberly hit on 10 of 21 floor shots and was guilty of five turnovers.

The hosts continued their hot shooting in the third frame, hitting 11 of 19 floor shots including four by Vanden Heuvel and three for Swokowski. They also began to control the backboards, getting better position than they did in the first half. The losers managed only three of 16 floor shots as the cold streak experiences in the second period continued. Olson scored seven of the 13 points for the losers in the third quarter, six of them on free throws.

Coach Jack Wippich inserted substitutes early in the fourth period as the regulars zoomed the score to 64-39 within the first two minutes of play. Carl Bruggink, Clintonvile mentor, continued trying various combinations in an effort to close the gap, but play became ragged for both teams as the subs shot wildly in an effort to dent the scoring column. The Truckers lost the ball 15 times without a shot in the second half while Kimberly had seven turnovers.

Kimberly hit on 10 of 24 shots in the final period while the losers managed five of 10 tries. For the game Kimberly hit an unofficial 43 per cent while the Truckers hit 32 per cent. Bill Lamers, who came on as a reserve led the winners with 16 points while Vanden Heuvel had 15 besides playing a strong game off the boards

Paape led the Truckers with 16 and Olson finished with 12.

Neenah Edges Jays, 48-44

Menasha would take its time and work for the good shot, and when the ball didn't go in, the taller visitors would gobble up the rebound. Then on offense, they were more accurate

13 Turnovers

Coach Doug Martin's cagers kept themselves in hot water in the first half by committing 13 turnovers They cut the total in half in the last two frames Menasha had eight in all

Despite surrendering the ball often, Neenah trailed only 19-18, at the intermission. The Rockets made eight of 18 first half field goal attempts compared to Menasha's nine of 31. Neenah was 2-for-4 from the free throw line Menasha only made one of six

No more than three points ever separated the clubs in the third period, and the Blue and White gained a 31-all knot at its conclusion by netting three of four gift tries in the last 14 seconds.

Big Dale Magedanz (6-7½) broke the deadlock by hitting on a short shot early in the last period. Neither team scored for two minutes, and, at 4:53 Tom Kopitzke made a 1-pointer. At 4 08, Dan Jankowski added another for a 35-31 score.

Menasha finally broke its scoring drought on two free shots by Gressler with 3:51 remaining. Then came a basket by Kopitzke and a layup by Jankowski for 39-33 with 2:49 left.

Kevin Conway cut the margin to four with a brace of charities but a jump shot by Ned Kramer at 1:58 and two free markers by Kopitzke a minute later upped the score to 43-35.

At 57 seconds, Gilbert connected twice from the charity line for Menasha and 13 seconds later, Ron Haack did likewise for 43-39.

Jankowski Scores

Jankowski then put his team out of range with a rebound basket and an accompanying free throw.

Then came Gilbert's basket plus a free throw (46-42), two charities by Magedanz at 18 seconds (48-42) and Gressler's final goal

Jankowski and Magedanz each made 14 points for the defending champs and Kopitzke put in 11.

Game honors went to Menasha's Brad Schliem with 15 points. Gressler had 14.

In team statistics, the victors canned 19 of 43 field goal tries and 10 of 13 from the line. Menasha was 15 of 57 from the floor and 14 of 20 on gift tosses.

FVL Scores Initial Win

Racine Goldbeck hooped three, and Johnson netted a pair of gifters and a beautiful driving layup in that time span.

Leading, 47-39, with 3:14 left, the Foxes went into a ball control pattern which clinched the game. Moving the ball better than they have all season, the Foxes forced Racine into risky defensive moves. The result was a cripple layup by Hannemann and free throws by Johnson and Bootz. The Crusaders fouled freely in a vain attempt to get back in the game.

With 10 seconds remaining, Bootz cashed a free throw to close the scoring. As the final seconds ticked away, the exuberant FVI fans counted the seconds and mobbed the Foxes at the horn. It was the first win for FVL over Racine in four games.

FVL shot 25 per cent in the second half compared to 33 for Racine. The Foxes had the edge on the boards, 17 to 13 in the last half and also for the game, 32-29. Racine was forced into 16 errors for the game. On free throws the Foxes hit 10-17; whereas Racine hit 9-18.

Now 1-1 in conference play, FVL travels to Watertown to meet the Northwestern Preps tonight.

Majors Takes Iowa State Coaching Job

AMES, Iowa (AP) — Johnny Majors, a former All-America who knew nothing but success as a player, has been entrusted with the task of revitalizing Iowa State University's long sagging football fortunes.

The 32-year-old Majors, who has been an assistant at Arkansas, agreed Friday evening to a five-year contract at $21,000 a year to replace Clay Stapleton as coach at the Big Eight school.

Majors was not available for comment Friday night, but was scheduled to appear at a news conference today.

Johnny, a ferociously elusive tailback, was one of the University of Tennessee's greatest performers ever back in the middle 1950s.

He cocaptained the undefeated Vols team that went to the 1957 Sugar Bowl. He was named to the 1956 All-America team, and placed second to Notre Dame's great Paul Hornung that year in competition for the Heisman Trophy.

Elkhart Lake Wins Over Chilton Quint

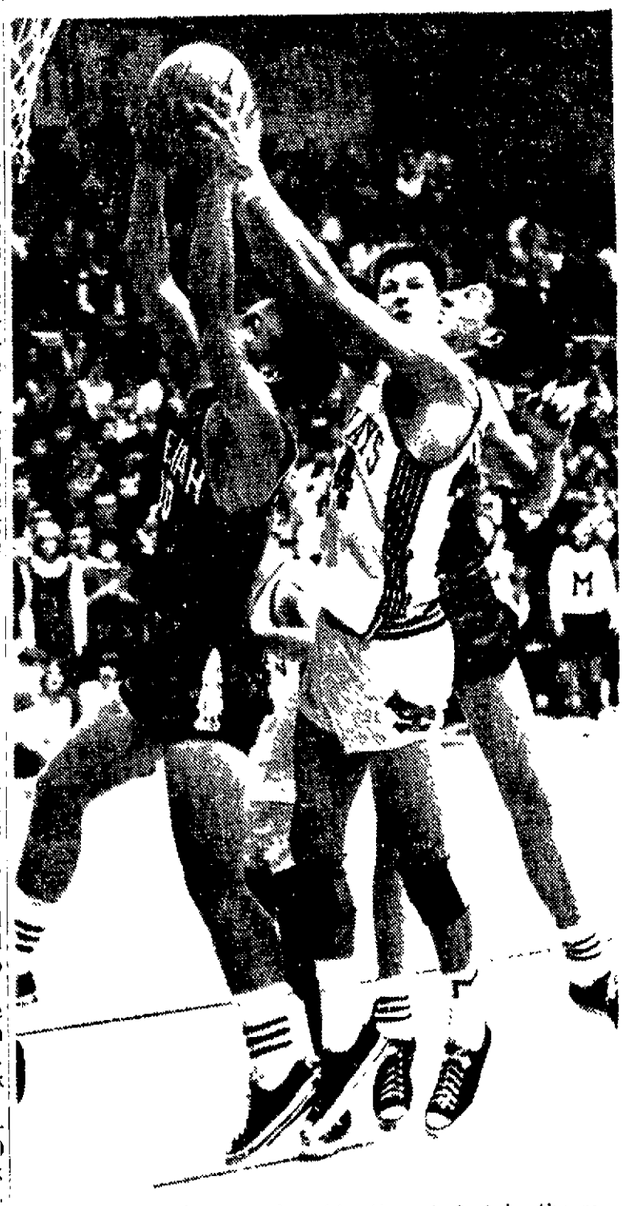

ELKHART LAKE — Elkhart Lake stopped Chilton's second half rally Friday night to score a 63-57 victory.

Dale Mullen and Eugene Blanke paced Elkhart Lake with 21 and 18 points respectively. Chilton was paced by Nick Schneider's 20 markers.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Play Paper Cup Catch With Table Tennis Ball

BY CAPPY DICK

The equipment needed for a game of Paper Cup Catch are two paper cups (One for each player) and a table tennis ball.

One player places the ball in his cup and with a sharp upward movement tosses the ball from the cup so it arches through the air toward his opponent. The players should stand eight or ten feet apart.

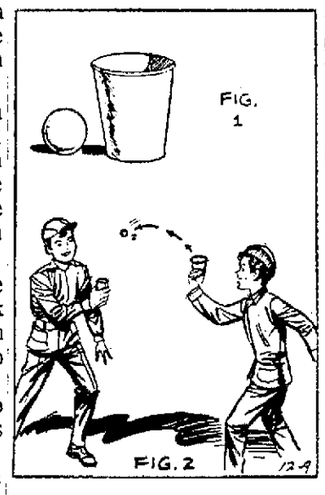

The opponent must catch the ball in his cup and toss it back to the first player who in turn must catch it in his cup, and so on.

Each time a player fails to catch the ball in his cup he is charged with five points.

The player who is first to be charged with a total of 25 points loses the game.

If you don't have a table tennis ball, any small ball will do if there is no danger that it will break windows or otherwise cause damage.

To Your Good Health

High Protein Diet For Low Blood Sugar

BY JOSEPH MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: I had tests that show I have low blood sugar. My doctor put me on a high protein, low carbohydrate diet. He didn't explain what this would do and I forgot to ask him.

It seems to me I would need

more carbohydrate to bring up the low blood sugar. After 2½ days on the diet I don't feel much change. — O.J.

Your doctor is absolutely correct. His advice may not sound logical, but it is.

You use up your blood sugar a bit faster than normal, so you have these periods when the level temporarily slides too low. Then you encounter any of the various symptoms — faintness, sudden sweats, vertigo or other such annoying things. (Not all people have the same combinations of symptoms.)

The actual sugar content of the blood is important, of course, but the rate at which it declines also makes a difference. With a slow decline, your liver can release enough stored material which promptly is converted into blood sugar. With a rapid decline, you can have the symptoms before the liver has time to do this for you.

Dr. Molner

Now what happens if you eat sugar at such a time — or eat carbohydrates in the form of starches, which also quickly convert to sugar?

Why, you get an immediate rise in blood sugar. But at the same time this sudden supply of sugar incites the pancreas to liberate more insulin which in turn uses up sugar rapidly. Thus the sugar level goes up and down like a roller coaster.

When your doctor prescribed a high protein diet instead, he did so because protein can be turned into sugar by your system, but it takes time. The sugar produced from the protein is released into the blood slowly and over a considerable time.

This gradual (rather than abrupt) release of sugar keeps the blood sugar up to a comfortable level, without appearing in the sudden way which stirs up insulin production.

Thus you iron out the hills and valleys — and you likewise avoid the sudden, sharp dips which cause most of the discomfort.

Two and a half days is hardly enough to get you in comfortable sugar balance, but a few days should begin to show results. You doubtless will be welcoming the results of your new diet by the time you see this explanation.

Dear Dr. Molner: At a bridal shower the girls had a discussion about sex — and of course pregnancies.

One said women are more susceptible to pregnancy during their menstrual cycles, more so than at any other time. Is this true? I had always believed the opposite. — Mrs. W.R.E.

Let's get straightened out on terms, which is probably the cause of your confusion. The menstrual cycle means the entire month, from the beginning of one period to the beginning of the next one. I think you are confusing "cycle" and "period."

Pregnancy is most likely at approximately mid-cycle, that is, roughly midway between periods, because that is when one of the ovaries releases an ovum to be fertilized. This is usually from the 12th to the 16th day of the cycle.

Dear Dr. Molner: How many calories in a one-pound, four-ounce rock Cornish game hen, roasted? I have looked everywhere and cannot find it on the charts. — Mrs. E.J.

Guess it isn't there. Dressed squab runs about 570 calories per pound; roasting chickens, ready to cook, are figured at 790 calories per pound. Cornish hen probably is between these two figures, depending on the amount of refuse — bone, etc. — and amount of fat.

What about constipation? Many can be relieved of it, both mentally and physically, by reading the booklet "The Way To Stop Constipation." For a copy write to Dr. Molner in care of The Post-Crescent, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope, and 25 cents in coin to cover printing and handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Saturday, Dec. 9, the 343rd day of 1967. There are 22 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1941, Japanese troops landed in the Philippines at the beginning of the war in the Pacific.

On this date:

In 1608, the English poet, John Milton, was born.

In 1641, the Flemish painter, Sir Anthony Van Dyck, died.

One year ago: In the U.N. Security Council, Zambia called for an oil embargo against the breakaway white government in Rhodesia.

Neenah Man Jailed for Beer Party

Arrested following investigation of a teen-age beer party Nov. 10 near Stephensville, Thomas Schmidlkofer, 21, 113 King St., Neenah, was sentenced to 21 days in jail Friday and fined $125 and costs or another 48 days.

The Neenah man, arrested after investigation by Hortonville police and Outagamie County investigators, pleaded guilty of furnishing beer for five youths, 15 and 16 years old.

He pleaded innocent to a charge of damaging Grandview Golf Course near Hortonville Nov. 9. Outagamie County Judge Gustave J. Keller set $150 bond and ordered trial for April 3. Authorities allege Schmidlkofer damaged the golf course with a motor vehicle.

Investigator George Hanlon told the Court Friday that Schmidlkofer purchased a quart of rum Nov. 12 and with a 15-year-old boy, drank it at the site of the Nov. 10 beer party. Hanlon said no formal charge was filed in connection with the Nov. 12 incident.

Judge Keller warned Schmidlkofer, "If you come back in here on the same kind of a charge, you'll sit up there (in jail) a long time."

Hunters Deny Reckless Use Of Firearms

Richard D. Eiden, 29, 628 Waugoo Ave., Oshkosh, and Art Eiden, 26, route 1, Larsen, pleaded innocent Friday to a charge of endangering the safety of three men, including a game warden, by reckless conduct in the handling of firearms.

Outagamie County Judge Gustave J. Keller set their trials for April 29 and set bond at $100 each.

The men allegedly shot a .22 caliber pistol and a .12 gauge shotgun in a manner that Warden Dale Gruber and two other men had to take cover. The alleged incident occurred last month near Dale.

Nabbed in Deer Season

Hunters' Fines Range From $10 to $105

Sixteen hunters paid fines ranging from $15 to $105 in Outagamie County Court Branch 2 Friday afternoon. It was the second consecutive Friday that the court calendar was filled by cases arising from arrests by conservation wardens.

Most of the arrests were made during the recent deer season. A majority of the hunters forfeited bonds, thus stipulating their guilt. Two innocent pleas were heard.

Kenneth A. Moes, 34, Nichols, pleaded innocent of having an uncased gun in his car Nov. 25 in the Town of Maine. Judge Gustave J. Keller set trial for April 24 and ordered $75 bond.

Walter Freimuth, 61, route 1, Black Creek, arrested Nov. 22 in the Town of Maine, pleaded innocent of having an untagged deer carcass in his possession. His trial was set for April 24 and bond is $125.

Largest Fine

The largest fine Friday was levied on Richard E Krause, 41, Minneapolis, Minn., who forfeited $105 bond on a charge of making a false statement concerning residency to obtain a resident deer hunting license Nov. 17.

Seven hunters forfeited bonds of $35 to $45 on charges of having uncased and-or loaded firearms in their cars. The amount of the bond was determined by whether or not the guns were loaded.

Charged were John Smith, 21, route 1, Bear Creek; David Peibyl, 18, Green Bay; William J. Grunwald, 48, and John Grunwald, 21, both of route 1, Black Creek; Joyce Ashton, 36, 1009 W. Brewster St., Appleton; Roy Pingel, 28, route 2, Shiocton; and Charles Grissman, 5334 N. Richmond St., Appleton.

Others Charged

The following hunters forfeited bonds of $30 to $40 for hunting within 200 feet of the center lines of county trunk and state highways: Robert Burns, 21, 603 S. Pearl St., New London; Oliver Brunno Jr., 27, 1029 W. Harris St., Appleton, James Greeley, 29, 209 John St., Neenah; and David Lukowitz, 21, Green Bay.

Eugene R. Martin, 28, 78 16th St., Clintonville, was fined $35 and costs or 20 days in jail after he pleaded guilty of having a strung or uncased bow in a deer area 35 minutes after the close of hunting hours Oct. 26 in the Town of Deer Creek. Michael Gallagher, 21, Green Bay, forfeited a $40 bond on the same charge.

Failure to have clothing at least 50 per cent red, orange, or yellow in color cost Patrick Geenen, 34, 802 W. Northland Ave., and Leon Knapp, 21, 413 E. Beacon St., New London, $15 each. They forfeited bonds.

Appleton Youth Given County Jail Sentence For Issuing Bad Check

Saying he was taking into consideration the youth's "other involvements," Outagamie County Judge Gustave J. Keller Thursday afternoon sentenced Robert Larson Jr., 19, route 3, Appleton, to six months in the county jail.

Larson, arrested by Outagamie County sheriff's investigators, pleaded guilty of issueing a worthless $76.38 check at a Black Creek grocery store Nov. 30.

The court was told that Larson was known to have been involved in other incidents lately for which he was not charged. The youth also apparently had been asked to leave the home where he was staying and reportedly had no place else to go.

Clerk Fined For Gun Sale

Minor Who Bought Pistol at Seymour Also Arrested

Sale of a .22 caliber pistol to a 19-year-old boy cost a Seymour hardware store employe $100 and costs or 48 days in jail Friday afternoon in Outagamie County Court Branch 2.

The stiff fine was imposed on Edward Becker Sr., 64, Black Creek, who pleaded guilty of selling a pistol to a minor. Raymond Samson, 19, route 1, Seymour, who bought the pistol on Oct. 1 was fined $50 and costs or 24 days in jail when he pleaded guilty of being armed with the pistol Nov. 23 in the Town of Maine. Possession of pistols by minors is illegal.

A state conservation warden told the court he was checking deer hunters near Outagamie County Trunk G Nov. 23 when he saw the pistol partially under the seat of the car in which Samson was a passenger. Samson told the warden he bought the gun Oct. 1 at Ace Hardware in Seymour.

Becker told the court that he was "ignorant of the law" prohibiting the sale of pistols to minors. Judge Gustave J Keller told him, "I believe you're more at fault than the boy" (Samson). Becker turned over to authorities a list of names of other minors who had bought guns at the store.

Judge Keller ordered the .22 caliber pistol confiscated.

Date Set for Trial on Disorderly Phone Calls

Trial was set for April 25 Friday afternoon for Marvin Barth, 28, 721 N. Morrison St., who is charged with two counts of making disorderly telephone calls to Clarence Pennings, route 2, Black Creek.

Outagamie County Judge Gustave J. Keller ordered the cases be tried together. Barth, who had been held in jail under bond, was released on a $500 bond signed by his parents.

For Proposed Merger

Committee Picks Site Near Wittenberg for High School

WITTENBERG — A high school site to serve Wittenberg, Tigerton, Birnamwood and Bowler, following a proposed merger, has been selected by an advisory committee and will be recommended to Cooperative Education Service Agency (CESA) 7 for approval.

The committee chose a site about 2 miles east of here near the junction of U. S. 45 and State 29.

Members said this site assures full transportation aids and provides control over students during the noon recess. Insurance rates also would be lower because of adequate fire protection, they pointed out, and emphasized the availability of sewer and water facilities.

They estimated Wittenberg students living farthest away would have to travel 20 miles; Birnamwood, 20 miles; Tigerton, 18 miles, and Bowler 23 miles.

Area Proposed

They recommend an 80 - acre plot to contain the building, athletic fields and parking.

Emotions were mixed on whether or not the facility should be a three-year or four-year institution. The consensus was that a four-year plant would cost an additional 20 per cent but would prove more beneficial to the district.

A $2.2 million price tag was attached to the building based on the state average of $2,750 per student. This would force the district to assume about a $200,000 bonded indebtedness, they said.

Building expenditures for the four separate districts totaled $1,209,334 during the past 10 years. Birnamwood has paid out $279,000; Bowler, $214.731; Tigerton, $353,512, and Wittenberg, $344,291.

Following discussion of the low tax value of the proposed district it was agreed a recommendation be made to CESA to include some fringe areas into the district.

After a broad discussion on representation it was agreed the outlying areas should have adequate coverage and the committee agreed a nine-man school board would be the most economical and least cumbersome to work with while giving all communities equal participation.

On the agenda for the Dec. 13 meeting scheduled at Birnamwood the curriculum will be discussed and a consultant will suggest possibilities for the new building.

Two Men Rob Supermarket At Green Bay

Undetermined Sum Taken at Gunpoint; Police Still Search

Post-Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY — Two men robbed a west side supermarket at gunpoint Friday morning.

An undetermined amount of money, brought into the store from a bank only minutes earlier, was stolen from the Sure Way Super Market, 1123 W. Mason St., about 9:30 a.m.

One of the robbers shoved a pistol into the back of store manager Basil Barrette and forced him into an office at the front of the store.

According to Barrette, the man took the money and met a companion at the front door. The pair sped away in a 1965 tan or gold Chevrolet Impala.

Green Bay and Brown County police squad cars were dispatched immediately to the city's southwest side in search of the thieves. Roadblocks were set up on the outskirts of the city and on county trunk roads. Police in surrounding communities were also alerted and the Outagamie County Sheriff's department set up a road block along U.S. 41.

Still Looking

Police were still looking for the getaway car at noon today.

Store employes, alerted to the holdup seconds after the two men walked out of the store, were able to give adequate descriptions of the bandits.

The man who forced the gun into the manager's back was believed to be about 35 years old, 5-feet-10 inches tall, wearing black-rimmed glasses and mustache, dark hat and coat. He had a "small face" and a spoke with a Southern accent, according to Barrette.

Other Man

The other man was described at about 19 or 20 years old, about 5-foot-10, and wearing a short jacket. The car was either tan or gold, with white sidewall tires.

Police checked a nearby residence, at which address the license number of the car was registered. No one was home.

Barrette said he was walking from the back room of the store when he was met at the doorway by a man who told him he wanted to talk to him.

The store manager said the man began forcing him to the front of the store and shoved something in his back. The man told him, "I have a gun and I mean business."

45-Calibre Gun

Barrette said the man carried the gun, believed to be a .45-calibre automatic, in his right hand. They walked together to the front office, where Barrette said he opened the safe and handed over the money.

Barrette said the man warned him there was someone else in the store watching them.

"As far as we know, there was only one gun involved," according to Capt. Fred Mathews. Mathews and other detectives questioned Barrette, store employes and customers after the incident.

Search For Shell

Mathews said he believed the gun to be a .45-caliber automatic. Detectives were searching for a shell after picking up several fragments near a single bullet hole in the tiled floor.

Barrette said he thought the man was kidding when he said, "Let's take a walk.

"Then he stuck the gun in my back. It went off, but I don't know if it was an accident or not," Barrette said.

At least four persons were standing in the back room when the incident occurred, but no one said they heard any shots.

None of the store employes knew of the robbery until Barrette yelled, "I've been held up."

Barrette pointed to the men and instructed his employes to get descriptions by looking out the window.

Action Sought On Aid Grants

Conservationists Seek Speedup on Watershed Planning

MILWAUKEE — Wisconsin may get action on a heavy backlog of watershed planning fund applications if the Legislature looks favorably on a proposal offered by the State Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts.

The association passed a resolution at Thursday's closing session asking for $100,000 annual allotment to finance a watershed planning party.

Before the state can qualify for federal planning funds a detailed application outlining the proposed projects must be sent to Washington.

Information would be prepared by watershed planning parties in cooperation with local soil and water conservation district officials.

The association will ask its national counterpart to seek passage of a House bill which would give local districts jurisdiction over farm plans and agreements since it already oversees other such projects.

Additional funds for the state's forestry service so it could expand its timberland management practices were advocated by the association. A referendum question in 1965 asking for a two mill tax to finance a similar program was killed.

The farm and a house on a four-acre plot in the Town of Lind, according to the will, goes to Mrs. Larson with the stipulation that she use and retain the income from both pieces of property but upon her death the property goes to Kalinka's youngest son, Peter Hans.

The balance of the estate, beside the Town of Lind property, included stocks and bonds, life insurance and a trust fund.

Neenah Youth Freed on Gault Decision Jailed While Waiting Retrial

NEENAH — A 16-year-old Neenah youth, released from the State Reformatory at Green Bay on the famed Gault Decision last week, pleaded innocent to a burglary charge of almost two years ago in juvenile court Tuesday.

He is being held in Winnebago County jail pending his trial in Oshkosh on Jan. 3.

The youth is the second Twin City juvenile to be released from the Green Bay Reformatory in the past month because of the Gault Decision

Gault Rule

In early November, a 17-year-old Menasha youth was released from the reformatory because of the Supreme Court decision.

The widely-publicized Gault Decision holds that juveniles must be informed of their constitutional rights, the same as the Miranda Decision upheld those rights for adults.

The Neenah youth was released from the reformatory when it was determined he had not been informed of his rights by Judge James Sarres in January of 1966.

The youth was charged with breaking into a Neenah home and stealing two shotguns. He also faced a count of stealing a stop watch from a local store.

On Parole

He was sent to the State School for Boys at Wales in January, 1966, and was returned on parole to Neenah several months later

While on parole, he allegedly forged three checks. His case was waived to adult court last March where Judge James Sitter found him guilty of the forgeries and sentenced him to six months in the county jail.

While in the county jail, he attempted to escape and caused extensive damage to the facilities.

When he was released from the county jail last August, he was then sent to the Green Bay reformatory for violating his parole on the earlier juvenile offense.

Now the youth will face a new trial under Judge Sarres on the counts of burglary and theft of January, 1966.

In the other Gault case, a Menasha youth who was freed on the Gault Decision in November will appear before Judge Herbert Mueller, the presiding judge at his trial three years ago, on Dec. 18 on the count of stealing a mini-bike.

Then on Dec. 27, the youth will face a new charge of robbery. He allegedly robbed an elderly Menasha man of $1,000 on May 2.

Steiger Raps LBJ Threat To Mink Bill

WASHINGTON — Rep. William Steiger has accused President Johnson of threatening to veto legislation favorable to the sale of Sixth District mink pelts.

Steiger said a presidential statement on Nov. 3, promising to veto import control legislation "means, of course, that the President would veto my bill to limit mink imports if they were passed by the House and Senate."

Steiger quoted Johnson as saying, "I think that these protectionist bills just must not become law and they're not going to become law as long as I'm President of this country."

Steiger, in a weekly statement of opinion sent to district newspapers for release today, retorted:

"I was deeply disappointed by the President's statement. I oppose blanket protectionism for every item we produce in this country. However, I think that when an industry such as the mink industry or the dairy industry faces critical problems which stem to a large extent from imports, we should not oppose that aid on the basis of blanket negativism. For that reason I will continue to support my legislation as well as work for other possible solutions."

Steiger said he submitted testimony on Tuesday to the U.S. Tariff Commission, conducting a hearing to investigate the nature of competition between domestic and foreign mink producers. He said he told the commission of his concern for the Wisconsin industry, and urged making "every effort to aid the industry whether by legislative or administrative action."

The congressman claims credit for Department of Commerce action taken earlier this year to increase the foreign price of mink. Steiger said he has learned that "these steps have been successful and the price of foreign mink is up over last year.

Group to Meet To Promote School Merger

Order to Dissolve Bear Creek District Will be Pushed

An organizational meeting to promote the attachment of the Bear Creek School District to the Clintonville district has been scheduled for 8 p.m. Wednesday at the Pleasant View Hall.

The aim of the group, headed by temporary chairman Nick Kruzicki, Town of Deer Creek, is to see that the Cooperative Educational Service Agency (CESA) 8 school reorganization committee's order to dissolve the Bear Creek District in 1968 goes through.

At the present time, an appeal to reverse the order has been filed in Shawano Circuit Court by five Bear Creek residents.

A similar appeal, filed by two residents of Clintonville, was turned down in November by the State Appeal Board, headed by the State Superintendent of Schools William Kahl.

The order to attach the district to Clintonville was issued by the reorganization committee Aug. 20.

Originally, the committee felt the district should join Clintonville this school year, but they reconsidered the move after the Bear Creek electors votd 122 to 81 against immediate consolidation. However, in later meetings with the Bear Creek board, the committee headed by Mrs. Kenneth Watts, Oshkosh, felt that the board favored attachment at the end of the current school year.

Goes to Committee Dec. 20

Outagamie Flood Plain Law Nears Completion

Outagamie County's flood plain zoning ordinance is expected to be ready for approval Dec. 20 by the county board's committee on agriculture and extension education, Chairman Stanley Perkins reported Friday.

The county planning commission met with the agricultural committee Thursday night and reviewed individual town maps which had been classified according to flood plain characteristics and potential use.

A number of town chairmen will be meeting with the committee during the interim to consider possible changes. Counties are facing a Jan. 1 deadline on the ordinance as set by the state in its new Water Resources Act.

In other committee activity, Soil Conservationist Vernon Geiger said a preliminary engineering survey was ready on the proposed pond for its Outagamie County Hospital grounds. He said the project would cost the county about $200 for culvert and gate which controls the water level in the pond.

The Army Corps of Engineers would be asked to perform the work. The new facility would be developed from an existing but dormant pond already on the property.

Geiger said the pond could be developed and stocked with fish but ruled out its use for swimming because of effluent draining into the area from septic tanks in the area of County Trunks OO and A north of the hospital.

When the city of Appleton discontinues the old city home on Spencer Street several years from now, an addition to the county facility will be needed to accommodate the influx of patients. The fishing pond would provide an added source of recreation.

Work has been completed on the Koepke Access by Landwehr, Inc., of Appleton and will be checked out by Geiger and Russell Luckow, county agricultural agent, to see that it meets specifications.

Meanwhile, the contract for a 750-foot streambank stabilization project at the Barker Access has been awarded to Murphy Construction Co. of Black Creek. The back slope has been shaped but further work is delayed until the ground freezes.

Sizeable drainage projects have been completed or started this year, Geiger reported. One surface drain job stretched 13,610 feet and another 12,300 feet. Tiling jobs measuring 40,000 and 39,195 feet have been completed in the county.

Several streambank stabilization jobs will be started when the ground freezes including a $6,000 project east of New London, on the Wolf River.

Rawhide Trees At Waupaca Plantation

Many potential Christmas tree buyers are winding up at Rawhide, Inc., near New London, not at the General Tree plantation 3 miles South of Waupaca along County Trunk E where the trees are being sold, according to John Gillespie, Rawhide manager.

The sale will be in progress the next two weekends and Gillespie said he wanted to avoid inconvenience or disappointment to buyers. Many reading or hearing the announcement assume the trees are at the Rawhide camp between Fremont and New London and drive there only to learn they are 25 miles off course, Gillespie said.

General Tree gives Rawhide $2 for each $3.75 tree sold. Buyers are allowed to pick out the tree of their choice after being given a sleigh ride or hay ride through the plantation.

Include Citizens, Teachers

School Study Groups Approved at Waupaca

WAUPACA — Resolutions to form a citizens committee and another made up of teachers to study the upcoming building program for the school district were passed Thursday by the board of education.

Board members submitted about 50 names of district residents who would make suitable committee members. Letters will now be sent to the prospective members asking if they would be willing to serve.

Functions of the group, once they become familiar with the completed educational system of the school district, are to survey the several school buildings and report their findings to the board of education. The committee will further assist the board of education and administration in determining what school buildings are needed. It also will serve to inform the public of the program.

Separate Information

A committee comprised of teachers will work along the same lines as the citizens committee but will work separately until all information is gathered and then a comparison of their findings will be made, according to Supt. George Hendrickson.

The Board of Education also has requested that the State Department of Public Insrtuction evaluate the Waupaca School System. Supervisors will be here Dec. 11 and 12 to start the program.

A tentative time schedule for the building program has been prepared. Architects will be interviewed between Jan. 1 and Feb. 29, and the architect selected will be engag ed shortly after March 1. Work of the board, citizens committee and teachers committee on preliminary planning is expected to be completed soon after the architect is hired so that preliminary plans and a cost estimate can be completed by July 1.

Approve Plans

Approval of plans and a start on the working drawings have been scheduled for August. The entire program will be put before the public in the form of a referendum for bonding, Sept. 10.

Fonal approval of plans for a building has been set for February 1969. The time schedule calls for putting the plans out for bids March 1, 1969, open bids, April 8, award contracts April 22 and break ground for the new building May 1, 1969 so that it can be ready for use on Aug. 1, 1970.

A 65-acre site on the southeast side of the city has already been purchased by the district as a future school site but the board of education has not officially indicated whether it will be a high school or an elementary school. During many discussions of the board, members appeared to favor a high school for the site with the present school facilities to be used for elementary and junior high school purposes.

Alimony a Dirty Word

Committee Asks Term be Changed

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Changing the term "alimony" to "family support" in Wisconsin laws would increase the payment of support for the families of divorced husbands and fathers, the State Council on Home and Family has been told.

"Alimony is a dirty seven-letter word," said Madison attorney William Bradford Smith, a member of the consulting committee on the enforcement of support in divorce judgments.

"If there is anything that drives an ex-husband wild, it is the thought that he is paying for a 'dead horse.' A man may grudgingly admit he must support his children, but he'll be darned if he will support that 'so and so' and he feels that he is paying alimony if he must address child support payments to the alimony clerk," Smith said.

Tendency To Balk

Ex-husbands have a tendency to balk when they telephone the county clerk's office to check on their support payments and hear the clerk answer "alimony clerk" or read "alimony and support division" on the courthouse door, he suggested.

The consulting committee recommended to the full council that it support a revision to state statutes calling for the use of the phrase "family support" in place of "alimony and support."

Rock County uses the title "administration and accounting office" in an attempt to avoid the problems, the committee noted.

Outagamie Board Faces Airport Expansion Decision

Resolution Will Ask Funding for Additions Requested by Firm Proposing to Use Facility

Outagamie County Board supervisors will be faced Tuesday with a decision on whether to meet the conditions of an industrial firm for that company to locate its corporate aircraft at the Outagamie County Airport.

The company, whose name has not been released, has requested a hangar be built, a 500 foot overrun added to the northeast-southwest runway, and that an apron, parking area and service road be provided by Jan. 1, 1969, when the firm's airplanes would be moved.

They also want assurance the southeast-northwest runway will be extended from 5,200 feet to 6,000 feet by 1971 and that the county will immediately apply to the Federal Aviation Agency (FAA) for a control tower and an Instrument Landing System (ILS).

Cost of Work

Cost of the work to be done by 1969, exclusive of the hangar, has been estimated at about $180,000. Hangar cost is estimated between $500,600 and $650,000.

The resolution that will come before the board would empower the executive committee to provide the necessary financing, giving an estimated total cost of $730,000. Actual costs would not be known until bids are taken.

Cost of the hangar would be returned to the county over a 30-year period by the firm in the form of rental. Cost of the other work would be borne by the county.

Mosquito Hill

The subject of Mosquito Hill also is expected to come before the board again.

A resolution asking $75,000 for purchase of more than 400 acres of land on and around the hill for a county park was laid over at the November session of the board. The Parks and Recreation Committee is expected to ask for action on the resolution, possibly amending the amount of money requested to a lower figure to cover acquisition of land now under option.

Board members toured the hill site after controversy developed over attempted acquisition of one of the parcels of land.

Rezoning Requests

Two rezoning requests will be considered, both in the Town of Dale. One will be to rezone land from agriculture to commercial and the other from agriculture to light industry.

The zoning board has recommended the petition of Franklin Hanselman to rezone land on Depot Road to light industry be denied. They recommended passage of rezoning of land on U.S. 10, between Winchester Road and Shaky Lake Road. from agriculture to commercial. Petitioner for the rezoning is Edward Herzfeldt.

$146,131 Budget Set By Iola Village Board, Up by About $11,085

IOLA — A 1968 budget totaling $146,131, calling for a $31 per $1,000 assessed valuation tax rate — has been approved by the Iola Village Board.

The new budget is $11,085 more than the current year's expenditures of $135,046.

The entire village was reassessed this year and the tax rate is now being based on 100 per cent valuation. Last year the rate was based on 47 per cent of full valuation, according to Charles Hartvig, village clerk. The tax rate for the current year was $63 per $1,000 assessed valuation.

Equalized valuation increased $522,780 over the $3,068,090 figure of last year.

The new budget calls for a tax levy of $111,316. The balance of the funds will come from revenues other than property taxes, which are anticipated at $34,815.

The village government budget is set at $71,312. This compares with last year's $70,743 village budget.

Other Expenditures

The budget also includes $636 for the state tax apportionment, compared with $613 last year; $18,677 as the village's share of the Waupaca County tax, compared with $17,647 in the current budget; $52,320 for local schools and state trust fund loans for schools, compared with the $46,043 budgeted last year; and $3,282 for the Vocational, Technical, and Adult Education District 12, which is a new tax assessment for the village this year.

A breakdown of the anticipated village expenditures for 1968 shows:

General government, $7,654; protection of persons and property, $9,190; health and sanitation, $12,185; streets and street lighting, $27,400; recreation and parks, $3,853; charity, $900; loans and interest payments, $8,430 Social Security, $700; legal fees, $500; and miscellaneous $500.

Chargeback Bill Sent to Assembly

Senate Okays Measure Cutting State Hospital Costs to Counties

MADISON (AP) — The state Senate, after nearly a month of debate, approved Friday and sent to the Assembly a bill aimed at reducing chargeback cost to counties.

The measure, approved 29-2, would cut by about $7.3 million the counties' share of the cost for keeping patients in state hospitals. The counties now are charged between 20 and 40 per cent of costs.

Senate Can't Agree

The bill was sent to the lower house for amendments after Senate leaders were unable to agree on details of the proposal.

Senate majority leader Jerris Leonard, R-Bayside, called for passage to "let the Assembly work on it."

The issue had become one of the most crucial facing lawmakers. Legislators had been getting pressure from county boards which must search for money to meet increased institutional costs.

Would Limit Costs

The bill, as approved, would limit to $1 million the cost to counties Expenses exceeding that amount would be paid by the state, but the exact cost is uncertain because of confusion over possible federal aid.

Democrats voted for final passage, but argued the measure offers no immediate help to boards.

They also argued that costs to the state could move to $13 million with only slightly more than $200.000 estimated surplus in the state 1967-69 budget.

Squad Car Kills Deer in Chase on 76

Damage was extensive but an Outagamie County police patrolman escaped injury when the 1968 squad car he was driving struck and killed a deer during a high speed chase on State 76, four miles northwest of Shiocton about 1:25 a.m. today.

Driver of the car was Thomas Janusheske, 26, 107 N. Durkee St., Appleton. Damage to the squad car was estimated at $1,000.

Janusheske said he was stopped at States 76 and 54 when he observed a car traveling west on 54 at a high speed. He said the car turned onto 76, nearly setriking the squad car, then continued north on 76. Janusheske said he started after the car, a 1963 green and white Pontiac. The red lights and siren were in operation on the squad car, according to the report.

Janusheske said he was near County Trunk FF when a deer jumped out from the ditch into the path of the car. The deer was killed. The car Janusheske was pursuing did not stop.

New Contacts Almost Daily

County Health Service Has Busy Year

New contacts under the family centered nursing care program of the Outagamie County Public Health Service averaged almost one per day for the program year ending Sept. 30, according to the department's annual report issued this week.

A total of 217 families were visited for the first time by the two public health nurses, Virginia Betley and Sarah Schamp, involving 342 persons admitted on department records. More than 1,500 contacts were made with those persons during the year, either at the home or at the county nurse's office.

The largest single category involved individuals having chronic illnesses. There were 187 individuals in this category involving 1,242 contacts, 550 of them at the patient's home.

Healthful Living

There were 261 contacts, involving 109 persons, for health promotion to assist the individuals in healthful living.

Maternity assistance was the next largest group, involving 17 individuals, seven expectant mothers and 10 new mothers. Eleven cases involved possible tuberculosis suspects; eight cases of communicable disease in children: eight active or suspected cases of venereal disease, and assistance to two mothers of premature infants.

All of the families and contacts are in areas outside of the area covered by the Appleton Visiting Nurses Association.

Other Programs

In addition to the family nursing program, the county public health service conducted vision screening programs, measles clinic, immunization clinics, hearing screening, case-finding mobile unit program and tuberculin skin testing program.

There were 8,562 elementary students screened for vision by volunteers and teachers. County nurses rescreened 235 students who had indications of vision difficulty. More than 3,200 children, ages 1 through 12, attended measles clinics in Appleton, Kaukauna and Shiocton.

In areas outside Appleton and Kaukauna, 849 adults were screened for diabetes, 2,084 for blood pressure and 2,413 for abnormalities by X-ray.

Immunization Clinics

In immunization clinics for children in kindergarten through fifth grade, 264 children received their initial small pox vaccination, 923 received re-vaccinations, 218 first series diphtheria-tetanus inoculations, 1,596 booster doses of diphtheria - tetanus inoculations, 15 first series of whooping cough and 16 booster doses of whooping cough inoculation.

Tuberculin skin tests were administered to 2,560 first, fourth and ninth graders and 235 students at Sacred Heart Seminary. A total of 14 positive reactors were discovered and examined and nine contacts of reactors were examined.

Hearing tests were given to 184 students with the hearing screening program continuing this year.

Priest Rebuked for Criticizing Excess Authority in Church

Archbishop Says Work by Noted Catholic Scholar 'Open Heresy'

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Long ago, when a quarrel over ranking authority erupted among Jesus' apostles, He told them:

"You know that the rules of the Gentiles lord it over them, and their great men exercise authority over them. It shall not be so among you; but whoever would be great among you must be your servant, and whoever would be first among you must be your slave, even as the Son of Man came not to be served but to serve."

Something akin to that issue was crackling this week in the wake of a bishops' sharp rebuke to one of the nation's top Roman Catholic theologians and Biblical scholars.

"It's really not much of a fracas," said the Rev. John L. McKenzie, the object of the bishop's censure. "What he says is completely untrue. I don't think he'll have anything more to say about it."

Barbed Reproach

However, it was an extraordinarily barbed reproach, and the reverberations from it were sounding in letters to Catholic newspapers, most of the reaction so far defending Father McKenzie.

The initial criticism came from Archbishop Robert E. Lucey, of San Antonio, Tex., who accused Father McKenzie of presenting "openly heretical" views in his book, "Authority in the Church."

The book, published by Sheed and Ward, bears the imprimatur of Bishop Robert F. Joyce of Burlington, Vt., and has been widely acclaimed by Church scholars.

Citing a statement in it saying, "Authority in the Church belongs to the whole Church and not to particular officers," Archbishop Lucey said in a letter to his priests: "This is obviously heresy. The authority of the Pope is supreme. Bishops are empowered to teach, govern and sanctify by the mandate of Christ. That mandate was not given to the laity. McKenzie's statement is nonsense . . . confused . . . wrong."

False Authority

Writes Father McKenzie in his book:

"A false identification of authority in the Church with the deity will go as far as anything conceivable can go to damage the prestige of authority; for men are not God, and they do not succeed well when they attempt to play God.

"There may be better ways of destroying communications with adults than treating adults as children, but I cannot think what these better ways may be. When adults can be trusted only to obey without question, they are not being trusted at all."

The topic was a major question at the Second Vatican Council, resulting in approval of a principle of "collegiality" asserting that bishops share with the Pope in authority and they also must listen to views of the people.

Balanced Approval

Considerable ferment has ensued since about means to implement this new balanced approach.

Father McKenzie, 57, a white-haired, philosophical Jesuit, commented in a telephone interview that the archbishop "may not have meant for his letter to be an open letter. It doesn't happen this way very often."

The archbishop's 12-page letter, dated last Oct. 27, was mailed to priests in his archdiocese, commenting on a study paper on authority and obedience drawn up by the San Antonio priests' senate, and quoting extensively from Father McKenzie.

The senate itself, like other similar organizations formed elsewhere, is an expression of the current movement toward more collective participation in Church policymaking.

Spellman Award

Father McKenzie, presently a professor of theology at the University of Notre Dame, only last month received the 1967 Cardinal Spellman Award of the Catholic Theological Society of America for outstanding work in the field.

He is a past president both of the Catholic Biblical Association and of the Society of Biblical Literature and Exegesis, an interdenominational body.

He has twice received the book award of the Catholic Press Association, once for his 950-page "Dictionary of the Bible," and also for his latest book, "Authority in the Church."

Archbishop Lucey, 76, a broadly sympathetic bishop who has backed his priests in some rugged ventures, including support by some of them for striking migrant farm workers, cited a statement from Father McKenzie's book saying: "Love is the only power which the New Testament knows."

'Open Heresy'

The archbishop called this "openly heretical." He said Christ gave His apostles and their successors power to "bind" and "loose" from sin, and that ecclesiastical authority included "power to rule, to teach, to punish," aside from "the virtue of charity."

"In other words," he added, "McKenzie has confused authority, which is power, on the one hand, and love on the other, which is not power."

In classic Christian theology, love is regarded as the mightiest existing power—the dynamic of God himself. "It's what we've been teaching for 2,000 years," commented Father McKenzie.

In the current issue of "Pastoral Life," put out by St. Paul Monastery, Canfield, Ohio, Father McKenzie maintains that monarchial rule of the Church "is an archaism which has outlived its usefulness."

Develop Democracy

He urges fuller development of basic "democratic elements" in the Church, saying there is nothing either in Church history, or its Biblical origins against applying these elements more "than we see now."

Doing so, he says, would correspond "better both to the cultural development of our civilization and to the Christian ideal of human dignity and human responsibility.

"I believe the modern laymen, whatever we can say of his predecessor, cannot be deeply involved in any action in which he has no responsible voice."

The present practices both of bishops and clergy, he says, are perpetuating a "division between rulers and ruled" and thus "keeping the Church from becoming a real unity in Christ."

With the accumulated marks of ecclesiastical rank, he says, "it is almost impossible for a bishop not to patronize, and it is not his fault. The venerable traditions of pomp put him where he can look in no direction but down."

The POWER of FAITH

By WOODI ISHMAEL

Mrs. Aldo de Valle has found a life of Christian fulfillment high in the Andes Mountains and far from her native England.

Five years ago she married The Rev. Aldo de Valle, a Methodist minister, and went with him to his parish in Concepcion, Peru. She immediately went to work among the women of the town of 8,000, developing programs of home industry, family planning, nutrition guidance and religious instruction.

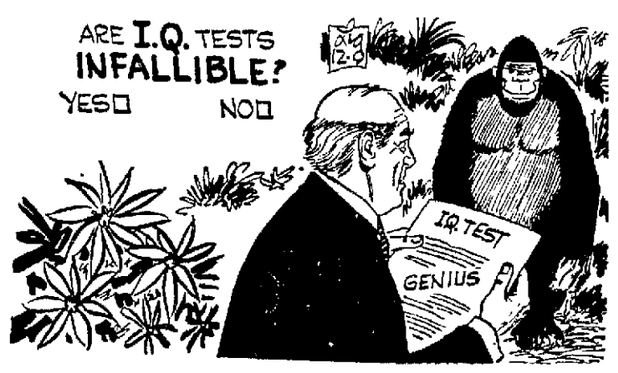

The people of Concepcion are very poor. In Peru approximately 53 percent of the population 15 years and older are illiterate. At a Methodist Seminary in Bolivia, Margaret de Valle first learned of literacy-teaching techniques. Last year she started a literacy program in Concepcion. With the help of 13 professional people, she formed a committee to back three projects for community improvement: literacy instruction, family counciling and home industry instruction. Mrs. Valle trained literates in the town to teach illiterates. Recently 46 teachers were graduated from the course.

She organized ten women into a corporate group. They make doilies and sell them for the profit of each woman. Margaret de Valle has helped to provide people with a tool to improve themselves—the ability to read.

Let's EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By Sylvanus M. Duvall, Ph.D. and Evelyn M. Duvall, Ph.D.

No, and we know why. There are so many things that they do not measure. A boy may have a much lower score on a test than does his roommate, and yet succeed much better. Why? Because he is willing to work twice as hard. Or perhaps because he likes people better and is willing to work with them. He may have a better sense of humor and, hence, does not get mad and quit. On a speed test, the hare would have won hands down, but it was the tortoise that finally won the race.

2. Will eliminating poverty eliminate trouble?

Yess— No—

No, it will not. Studies of families in low economic levels, as compared with families in more affluent circumstances, find that trouble is not limited to the poor. In fact, middle class families have more problems than do those in the poorer neighborhoods. The problem of poverty are more difficult to treat because they so often arise from poor attitudes toward work, and irresponsible demands that do not help the poverty-stricken family better its conditions.

3. Are children naturally curious?

Yess— No—

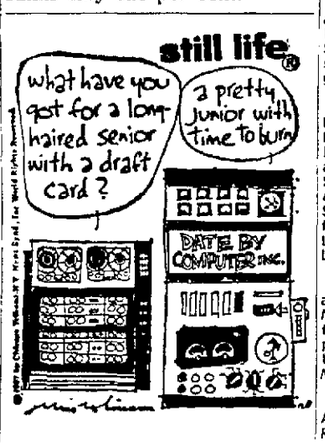

Yes. Children have power urges to find out about all sorts of things. When they ask questions about science and history and geography, we're pleased and proud. We're glad they're smart enough to wonder and to ask some questions. But in some areas (sex education, for example), we become confused and stammer some embarrassed reply.

600,000 Postal Savings Accounts Still Unclaimed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government wishes 600,000 Americans who socked away their spare cash in postal savings accounts would please come around and collect.

The postal savings system was abolished June 30 but not everyone got the word. Post Office Department and Treasury Department figures recently showed $38 million in unclaimed deposits.

Banks were not as plentiful—and savers not as trusting of those banks that did exist—when the system was established in 1910. Deposits hit an all-time high of $3.4 billion during World War II, when the postal accounts paid two per cent interest and commercial banks only one per cent.

Laughs Off Candidacy Suggestion

Rockefeller Says Door Still Is Closed

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Confessing he is being pressed harder than ever before, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller says he hasn't opened the door even a crack wider to a possible draft for the Republican presidential nomination.

Rockefeller laughed off, in an interview, a suggestion by Oregon Gov. Tom McCall at the GOP governors conference here that a national committee be formed to circulate petitions urging the New York governor to get into the nomination race. McCall guessed that 15 million signatures could be assembled.

"Are they all going to be delegates to the nominating convention?" Rockefeller asked. Told that obviously they would not be, the governor replied: "That's it. Now you've got it. That's what counts."

Rockefeller, who is expected to be designated a favorite son by the New York delegation, conceded he is being pressed harder at this meeting than ever before on his noncandidate stand.

McCall, who claims that at least 15 GOP governors would be happy to have Rockefeller head the 1968 party ticket, said subsequently he will not push his proposal.

Informed that a statement he made at a Friday news conference was being interpreted in some quarters as a softening of his stand against a possible draft, Rockefeller said this just wasn't so. "I have not changed my position one iota," he said.

In response to a question at the news conference of whether he was "draftable," the governor had replied: "That is a hypothetical question, it's an iffy question. I haven't faced it because I don't think it is a reality. If the party presents you with that fact, and I don't think it will, then you have to face it."

While McCall said he thinks Rockefeller "is moving a little" toward a possible candidacy, Gov. Spiro T. Agnew of Maryland counseled others who want the New Yorker for a candidate against forming any draft organization. Agnew said it was too early.

Gov. John H. Chafee of Rhode Island, incoming chairman of the GOP conference, said that if developments should bring Rockefeller into the picture he does not think that convention delegates would reject the New Yorker despite the fact that a majority of them are likely to be conservative.

Chafee, a supporter of Gov. George Romney of Michigan, said he thinks the New Hampshire and Wisconsin primaries might "break' a losing candidate but would not necessarily give the winner an inside track toward the nomination.

Chafee torpedoed a short-lived revolt against his taking over the conference chairmanship by assuring the governors in a closed session that he would never use his position as chairman to advance Romney or any other candidate.

In a closed session, the governors voted to recommend the appointment of Gov. Raymond P. Shafer of Pennsylvania as co-chairman with Senate Minority Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois of the 1968 convention platform committee.

Dirksen, who opposes sharing the top job, told a news conference he welcomes aid from the governors in drafting platform planks. He indicated he would be willing to name some of them to head subcommittees.

National Party Chairman Ray Bliss must decide the issue of whether Dirksen goes it alone or has a governor sitting at his side.

The governors also decided to accept Shafer's proposal for a series of hearings in all sections of the country to get grass root opinion on the issues with which the platform will deal. Chafee said they probably will be arranged for February.

Garnishment Law Is Constitutional

MADISON (AP)—Wisconsin's wage garnishment law is constitutional, the State Supreme Court ruled Friday.

The decision, affirming a ruling by Circuit Judge George D. Young of Milwaukee, struck down contentions that the law denied equal protection to persons of low income, or that garnishment of wages prior to court judgment threatens gainful employment of many wage earners.

The majority opinion said the court found no evidence to back the claim of denial of equal protection and noted that all debtors, including businessmen and corporations, are subject to garnishment before judgment.

2 Men Escape Serious Injury in Crash of Plane

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Two young men escaped serious injury Friday when their light, single-engine, airplane struck power lines, crashed and burned after barely missing a home for the aged.

Kenneth Hayes, 20, of Waukesha and Roger Myers, 21, of Milwaukee, were hospitalized in satisfactory condition after the fire was extinguished and they were pulled from the wreckage. The blaze never reached the cockpit.

Hayes, the pilot, suffered multiple cuts and bruises and a back injury. Myers received cuts to the head and face, and back and stomach injuries.

The plane was heading for a landing at a northwest side airport when the right wing was sheared off, apparently after the craft clipped a power pole.

The crash caused an electrical and telephone service blackout in several city blocks and created a major traffic jam when signal lights at a major intersection went out.

After striking the pole, the plane hit the ground and skidded across a street, coming to rest only 10 feet from a two-story residence building on the property of an old age home.

The gas tank ripped open and burning fuel was spewed on the lawn.

Members of the home's staff rushed outside with fire extinguishers. Firemen arrived shortly thereafter.

Nepotism Ban Due For Congress Okay

Rider to Bill Would Prohibit Hiring Relatives in Capitol

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress is about to pass a delayed-action law prohibiting members from putting relatives on their office payrolls.

The ban against nepotism won't affect the various wives, sons, in-laws and other kin now employed in congressional offices.

But representatives and senators would, under the bill, no longer be able to hire relatives or seek jobs for them elsewhere on the congressional payroll.

An Associated Press survey earlier this year showed more than 50 members of Congress had relatives on their payrolls at the time or had employed them at some period in the previous year.

Postal Rate Bill

The antinepotism ban was attached as a rider to a bill to raise postal rates and salaries of federal employes.

The bill appears headed for final congressional passage next week and President Johnson is expected to sign it.

The antinepotism provision applies to the executive and judicial branches of government as well as to Congress.

Officials in any agency with hiring and promoting authority could not put relatives on the agency payroll.

It does not apply to military assignments.

One grass-roots effect will be a ban on hiring of relatives by postmasters, said to be a frequent practice in smaller communities.

At the top levels of government, it bars, for example, a president from appointing a relative to a Cabinet post.

That happened in 1961 when Robert F. Kennedy, now a senator, was named attorney general by his brother, President John F. Kennedy.

The architects and floor managers of the postal rate-pay bill had no plans for striking at nepotism in the bill.

Senate Approves Request Against New Meat Checks

MADISON (AP) — The State Senate Friday gave overhwelming approval to a resolution asking President Johnson to prevent enforcement of the new federal meat inspection law.

State lawmakers argued that the measure, if enforced by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, would force small Wisconsin slaughterhouses out of business.

Senate Majority Leader Jerris Leonard, R-Bayside, said that strict equipment requirements would "put these little guys out of business."

The resolution, which now returns to the Assembly for final approval, states Wisconsin already has stringent meat inspection laws and does not need federal standards.

State Deer Hunter Dies From Wound

LA CROSSE (AP) — John Berckman, 34, of Sparta, wounded in a hunting accident during the deer hunting season Nov. 22, died today in a La Crosse hospital.

Authorities said Berckman was wounded by a hunting companion during an outing in La Crosse County.

Five other hunters died of gunshot wounds during the deer hunting season.

BOAC Pilots Strike in Dispute Over Salaries

LONDON (AP) — Nearly 1,000 pilots of the state-run British Overseas Airways Corp. (BOAC) went on a 48-hour strike today, but the airline said it hoped to keep some jets in the air.

The strike—aimed at nearly doubling the pay of top pilots—affects 32 flights out of London Airport over the weekend. BOAC estimates the strike will cost $408,000 a day in lost passenger and freight revenue.

Shorter Sideburns Ends Youth's Suit

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — The dispute between Jeffrey Neil Mausner, 17, and officials at George Washington High School has been settled—by half an inch.

Mausner, who was suspended from school because of his long sideburns, agreed Friday to shorten them one-half inch to meet school requirements.

The district court agrement ended a suit by the American Civil Liberties Union on behalf of the youth. A judge ordered the youth readmitted temporarily to school last week, pending outcome of the controversy.

Lacing Europe Together

The union of Europe has been a dream of the leading men of that continent since the beginning of Western civilization. Julius Caesar, Charlemagne, Napoleon, most recently the evil genius of Hitler, exploited their military might and bent their intellectual resources to that grand goal that has yet to be attained after two millenia.

One of the ironies of our times is the probability, now seriously discussed by political scientists and economists, that the binding glue of trade interest may succeed where the mightiest legions of western history ultimately failed.

Trade ties are tightening all over Europe, slowly but solidly.

The most recent manifestation is in the boom in construction of pipelines on all parts of the continent. A new Trans-Alpine pipeline has begun pumping 300,000 barrels of crude oil each day from historic Trieste on the Adriatic to distant refineries in southern Bavaria. Not only is the sixth of the huge lines constructed to meet rising demands for crude oil in Western and Central Europe, but it is another vital link in an East-West pipe transport system that could provide all of Europe with a competitive but technically unified supply system.

The Soviets are already pumping huge volumes of oil to their satellites in Central Europe and Eastern Germany. There is a plan to extend one of their lines across Austria to Trieste. A more immediate prospect is an East-West line to bring natural gas from remote Soviet Siberia into Western Europe. Italy has agreed, France is interested, and in Austria negotiations are well advanced. Mutual economic motivations may one day provide the unified Europe that imperial armies repeatedly failed to achieve.

Centralized Purchasing Does Work

The Appleton Common Council has moved in the right direction by authorizing formation of a special committee to look into the advantages of establishing a centralized purchasing procedure for all municipal boards, agencies and departments.

In appointing Mayor George Buckley chairman and asking for monthly reports on the progress made by the group, the Council made it clear that creation of centralized purchasing may not be as elusive as in past years.

It would seem logical, too, that other departments, boards and agencies outside of city hall should be more than willing to participate in a program aimed at realizing major savings for the city — if they only be through volume purchases.

City officials can get a clearer picture of the advantages of centralized purchasing by talking to those in charge of such programs in many other Wisconsin communities. In addition, guidelines and suggestions on formulating such a program are contained in a timely story appearing in the December issue of The American City, the nationally-circulated magazine of municipal management and engineering.

It suggests centralized purchasing can be performed by one unit with others "hitchhiking", or that a purchasing council be formed to carry out the basic functions. Various boards would be represented on the council.

In either instance, departments, boards and agencies would be surveyed to determine what they want to purchase cooperatively. Then a determination is made on specifications.

Another step is laying the groundwork for soliciting bids by ascertaining from each member the quantities of commodities they need during the contract period, setting the time for bid-taking, and establishing bidder conditions.

Bids are advertised for and someone is assigned to receive them. They are tabulated, analyzed and certified as to the lowest bidder. Agencies participating execute their own contracts and are responsible for receiving, inspecting and paying for their purchases.

There can be procedural variations, but basically the program is simple and vitally necessary if all phases of municipal spending are to come under the heading of good housekeeping. This should be a citywide goal for Appleton's municipal purchasing because tax dollars are always involved.

A Police Chief Goes to Jail

How far are some courts going to go in hampering the work of police officials in chasing down criminals?

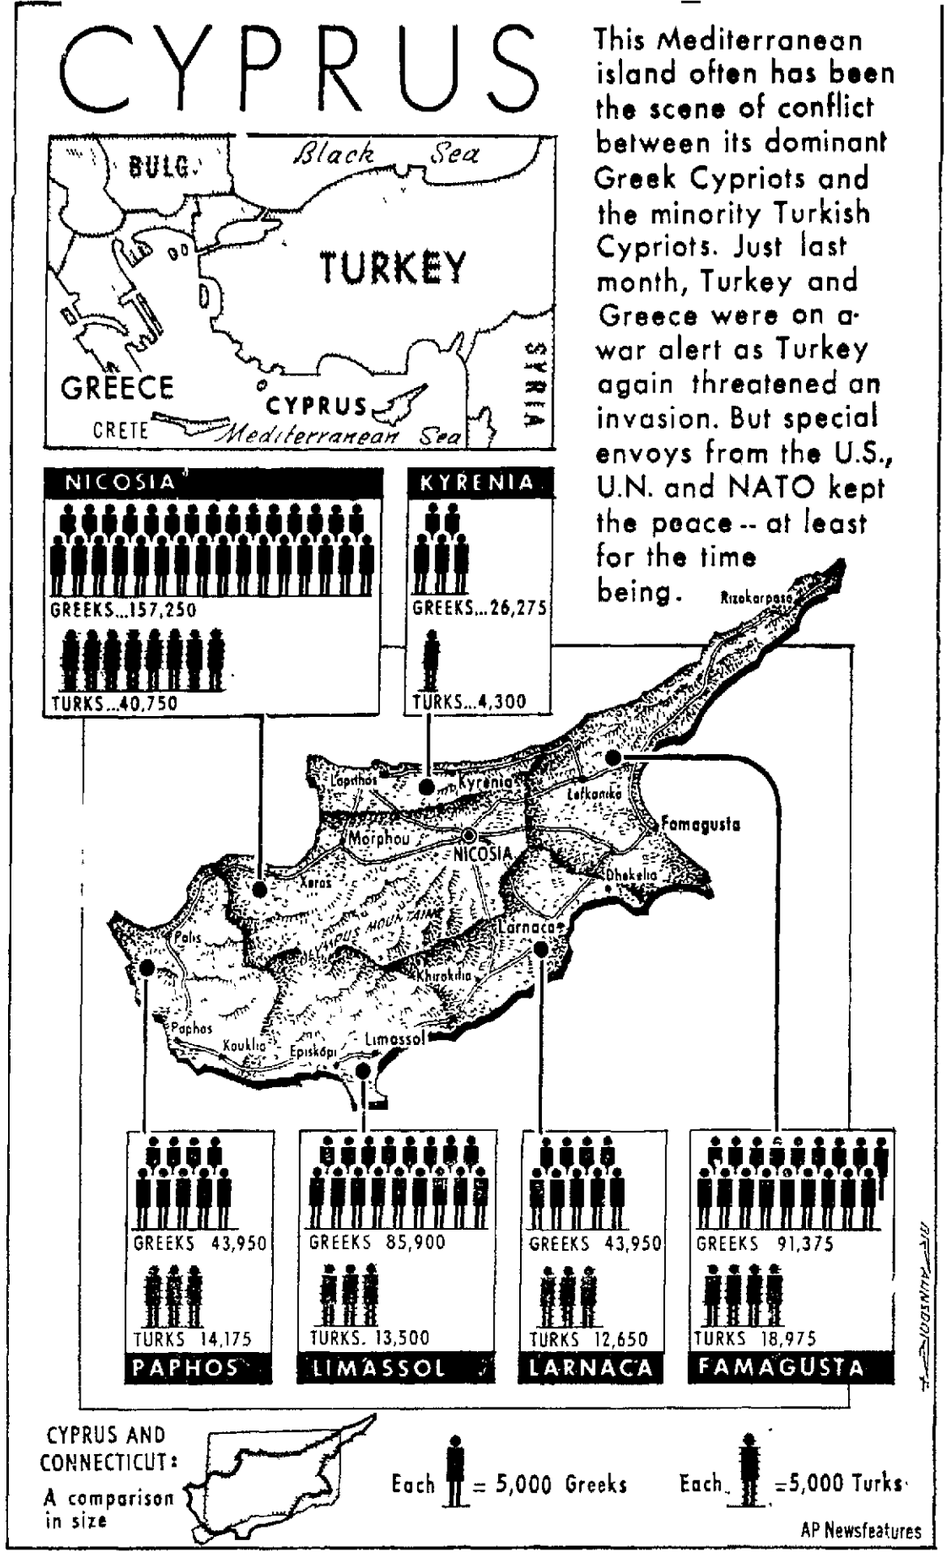

One of the more ridiculous incidents of this nature comes from Little Rock, Arkansas, where a circuit judge put the state police director in jail because he wouldn't reveal the name of an informant who gave the chief information which led to a series of gambling raids.

A total of 12 persons were arrested in the raids conducted by Director Lynn Davis. They were taken before the grand jury. Testifying at the grand jury hearing, Davis refused to reveal the name of the person who tipped his office off on the gambling activities.

The judge said, "As far as I'm concerned he's going to answer the questions or stay in jail until he makes up his mind to do it." The police director replied, "I'm prepared to stay here, frankly, until hell freezes over." He said that revealing confidential sources of information would "put law officers out of business," and that he might also be placing the informant in jeopardy.

Governor Winthrop Rockefeller was so upset over the incident he flew back to Little Rock from a speaking tour and appeared at a news conference with Davis to pledge his support "No one can be pleased at this other than the gamblers and the hardened criminals," he said.

For years law officers have depended on confidential informants in solving crimes. There is no reason why the judge should require the divulging of the name of the informant since information obtained from such a person is only heresay evidence and not admissible in court. From this distance we don't know why the judge has it in for the police director. But we are becoming increasingly concerned about the barriers being put in the way of law enforcement officers generally by the judiciary without regard to the rights of the public for protection against crime.

No Permanent Solution in Sight For Hatreds Seething on Cyprus

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Once again the threat of war over Cyprus has been averted. Yet, the Mediterranean island still seethes with ill feeling amongst its inhabitants, as it has for centuries, with no permanent solution in sight

The tiny island — smaller than the state of Connecticut — has been historically a sore point in relations between Greece and Turkey, stemming from hundreds of years of animosity and distrust between the Greek Orthodox who dominate the island and the Turkish Moslem minority. Of the 600,000 people on the island, 480,000 are Greek Cypriots.

The conflict dates back some four centuries, when the Ottoman Turks conquered the island which is just 40 miles south of Turkey—and 500 miles from the Greek mainland. The latest crisis, however, can be traced back to 1960, when Cyprus gained its independence from Britain.

ANNEXED BY BRITISH

Great Britain had taken over the occupation and administration of Cyprus in 1878, though it remained nominally an Ottoman territory at that time. Cyprus was annexed to the crown in 1914 and became a crown colony in 1925 Between that time and its independence, there were numerous, often violent demands for enosis — "union" with Greece — by the Greek Cypriots, led by the Archbishop Makarios, and equally violent objections to it by the minority Turks.

A temporary halt to the conflict came about in 1960 when Cyprus became a republic, with a president elected by and from the ethnic Greek community and a vice president from the corresponding Turkish community. A 70-30 proportion favoring the Greek Cypriots was set up in the Cyprus House of Representatives.

And, in an agreement to have its repercussions years later, Greece was allowed to keep a 950-man military force, Turkey 650 troops on the island

Communal strife broke out again, most harshly in December 1963, when Turkey threatened an invasion to help the minority Turk Cypriots in a civil war. The United States intervened at that time to forestall the Turkish military move and the United Nations sent in a 4,500-man peace force, which is still there and which helped end another crisis peacefully in 1965 . . . and again in 1966.

GUNS ARE UNLOADED

In the latest outbreak, Turkey again threatened invasion, marshaled its naval forces and sent jet planes daily zooming over Cyprus. It began Nov. 15 in a clash between Turk Cypriots and Greek Cypriot police and troops in the villages of Ayios Theodhoros and Kophinou, about 40 miles south of the capital city of Nicosia. When it was over, 25 Turks and two Greeks were dead — and the age-old animosity was inflamed once again. At this time, it was found, Greece had somewhere between 8,000 and 12,000 troops on the island and Turkish forces numbered about 1,200 — compared with the 950 and 650 agreed to by treaty.

By the end of November, the guns were unloaded and the threat of invasion again disappeared — at least temporarily It was settled with the good offices of the United Nations, the United States and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Yet the basic problem of the security and political rights of the Turkish minority remains unsettled and the boiling pot in the Mediterranean may spill over again at any time. Diplomats hope, however, that this current settlement may lead to full-scale efforts to seek a permanent solution

Republicans Better Off Now Than Before Any Recent Campaign

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — The picture of a contented man in Wisconsin politics is offered by Ody J. Fish, the energetic head of the Republican state party organization which is preparing for a renewal of the struggle with the Democrats for Wisconsin supremacy next year.

His contentment is not entirely related to the fact that after years of bachelorhood he was recently married or to the condition of his private affairs, which are evidently prospering.

Wyngaard

Fish devotes virtually as much of his energy and work day to the chores of his party office as he does to his own business, and every indication is that the Republicans have ahead of them a campaign for Wisconsin power in which they are likely to win again

POSITIONS CAN SHIFT

The GOP organization chief is too realistic to overlook the fact that in the complexity of today's governmental affairs, and especially as they relate to the dominant question of international relations, the possitions of the parties can shift quickly Much of the optimism among Republicans currently relates to the obvious political troubles of the White House in relation to the military problems in Asia The polls are too frequent and too consistent to leave much doubt

The White House is inhabited by the most powerful man in the world. Its present tenant is one of the most resourceful politicians this country has produced lately, as Fish and other pragmatic members of the opposition party are aware An honorable settlement in Vietnam before the elections next fall might change the prospects of the political parties overnight, as the Wisconsin organization leader is also aware.

Nevertheless, and taking into account such imponderables, Fish can view his job for the next year with more equanimity than anyone who has held it during the last decade.

KNOWLES CAN CHOOSE

According to all the evidence at hand, Gov. Knowles' acceptance among voters remains good. The Democrats have tried their utmost to raise an issue, testing one after the other, but without much credible showing that they have yet found an effective theme against the governor — whatever he decides to do about choosing the office to seek next year. It is a mark of his stature in the party organization, moreover, that it is almost everywhere conceded that he can have his choice between the nominations for senator and governor.

Fish's immediate problem is to prevent ruptures in his party structure from the pressures of presidential politics that sometimes threaten because of the strategic value of victory in this state's early presidential primary. Thus far the party organization has seemed content to follow his wishes — for strict neutrality among party officials in the presidential delegate campaigns, and for pointedly equal and courteous treatment of all presidential contenders ever. . . helping, when asked, to round up friendly local politicians for each of them to form their campaign clubs

Conversely, Fish has not hesitated to inform the managers of those presidential aspirants as they start their drives in Wisconsin that he expects similar consideration from them, so as to avoid the divisive consequences of other presidential primary campaigns here. Thus, far, according to all appearances, they have been willing enough to accept his counsel.

COULD AVOID BRUISES

The primary election involving three and possibly more aspirants next spring has been arranged to make it somewhat less trying for the moral and the unity of the party organization, since the presidential candidates are no longer required to select their own delegate candidates to run with them on the ballot. That job under the new law goes to the Republican state organization led by Fish. The choices will be made after the election.

Thus may be avoided the bitter and bruising competition that sometimes hurt the party cause in other years, as in the Wendell Willkie bids many years ago, the Taft bid in 1952, and most recently, the Goldwater nomination drive of 1964 which left in its wake a malaise in the party machine that lasted for months

War Spending Could Do Wonders at Home

Editor, Post-Crescent:

Thank you for the article, "Napalm Protested for Human Reasons," by Mary Alice Martines, which was in Dec. 2 People's Forum Few can express themselves as well as she does

But perhaps she should have explained what napalm is and how it affects its victims Some may not know Then let us ask ourselves whether we are involved in Vietnam for the welfare of the Vietnamese people, or for the benefit of our own economy.

In the past fifty years we have fought and financed four wars on foreign soil. Those who do the fighting and those on whose land the fighting is done pay the biggest price Isn't it time we find a better way to boost our economy?

If we would spend some of those billions of dollars teaching and helping our slumdwellers to build new homes and keep them in repair, we would be making a start toward a better economy And if we paid our teachers according to their value to society we would have more and better teachers.

Articles such as that mentioned above indicate that some people are thinking for themselves and coming up with the right answers. With enough cooperation they will save our country from moral bankruptcy

Here's New Gimmick For Selling Magazines

Editor, Post-Crescent:

Because the Season To Be Jolly may lull some otherwise alert gift buyers into a generous state of receptivity, you may do some trusting Fox Valley residents a favor by drawing attention to a sales gimmick that is being practiced in this area.

A sweet voice, speaking in the name of a well-known illustrated magazine, informs you by phone that your number has been selected by computer to receive over the next sixty months five popular magazines free, provided you don't mind passing them on to friends after you've read them. Of course you wouldn't mind reimbursing the generous publishers for the minor amount of postage plus operating expense (tor the computer or the like), especially since any relative or acquaintance of your choice will also get — in your name with your compliments — a free one-year subscription to one of the five magazines

A few days later, a breathless teenager in a hurry comes by and asks you to sign an envelope-size sealed brochure with a few paragraphs printed on the outside which is to confirm the telephonic gift horse. She or he may call it a guarantee or a certificate.

Sign it and you have just agreed to pay $117 00 on the instalment plan for what amounts to a factual subscription to five (possible unwanted) magazines over the next five years That's what the apparent bargain price of only 45 cents weekly "postage" comes to when multiplied by 260 weeks. In addition, you will have furnished the clever manipulators with another address for a similar sales pitch.

Whether this kind of "salesmanship" is illegal, unethical, or merely inappropriate to the spirit of the season I cannot say. What I should have done (—hindsight, alas!—) is to insist on getting the name, address, and phone of the would-be giver.

Troubles Over Johnston Street

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Post for Dec. 19, 1867.

The account of David Whitney $25) for five months rent of lot, used for piling ground for Mr. Barteau's lumber (obstructions removed from Johnston St) is on motion of Ald. (Anson) Ballard referred to the City Attorney for his opinion whether said account is a proper charge against the city; and, if so, against what fund.

The opinion will be looked to with interest by the dwellers in the neighborhood of said Johnston Street since the Circuit Court has decided that under our "revised, improved and consolidated" City Charter, the justice of peace has authority to try actions where the title to land comes in question; and also has decided that said Johnston Street is a public highway; it follows that if land rulings are affirmed by the Supreme Court, there are several buildings and "other obstructions" yet to be removed from said street.

Now the city will not only pay the expense of removing these buildings and obstructions, but also pay the rent of eligible grounds for their new location; the authority of the city will be fully vindicated and the depravity of the "covetous pre-emptors" who have so long occupied said public street will be fittingly rebuked.

Is Town of Menasha Tax Increase a Foreboding?

Editor, Post-Crescent·

After reading the article in Tuesday night's paper about the "whopping increase" in Town of Menasha taxes, it made me wonder if I should continue buying my home or sell out and rent? It hardly seems possible that I will be paying more than one-third increase in taxes over last year, if the final budget stays as it is proposed now. It seems to me for a township that is hoping to attract future industry, this ridiculous raise of taxes would certainly be unfavorable. If this is any indication of "things to come," not to even mention the new Sanitary District, I wonder how many taxpayers will be able to stand the expense?

In regards to the new post office, I sincerely hope the Town Board will not consider any more irons in the fire at the present time.

I think our town chairman should be commended for his stand against the rising school costs, and many possible cuts that would not hinder education. If the transportation to and from school seems to be eating up a great share of the tax dollar, there may be some improvements made along this line of thinking. If any of our sincere readers have comments or fresh new ideas, about this non-stop tax rise, I hope they will voice their opinion for the good of our township.

Father Teaches Son Lesson; Becomes Copycat Long-Hair

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband became disgusted with the way our 16-year-old son Rod had been wearing his hair. The boy liked it full on the sides and a lot longer than my husband thought was necessary.

After repeated suggestions that Rod get a haircut (all ignored) my husband decided to teach his son a lesson by letting his own hair grow long so the boy could see what it looks like. (My husband's hair is very curly, and after four weeks without a haircut he looked as if he was wearing a fright wig.)

Next Monday is parents night at the high school. This morning Rod asked his dad to please get a haircut before he showed up at school. His dad replied, "My hair doesn't look any worse than yours, but I'll get a haircut tomorrow if you will."

Rod said he wouldn't get a

Landers

short haircut but he'd let the barber trim off a couple of inches."

Tonight at the dinner table I sat with two very attractive, well-groomed gentlemen. I thought I'd let you know how the hair problem was solved in at least one family — Relieved

Dear Relieved: The solution took a lot of courage. Not every man would or could do it. (I'll bet your husband is self-employed. Most bosses would not put up with long curls on a man who is trying to teach his son a lesson.)

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am 30, attractive, unmarried, successful in business, and have turned down some promising young men who wanted to marry me. Reason: I'm too fussy. In retrospect I regret my past mistakes but there's no point in crying about that now.

The present crisis is something I need help with. A bachelor, age 40, has been quite attentive for five months. Our vacations fall at exactly the same time. He has asked me to take a trip with him — a cross-country drive, with stops wherever we felt like it, no set itinerary. Of course everything would be strictly on the up and up —separate hotel and motel accommodations and no hanky panky.

At first he mentioned it as a joke and then he became serious. I am beginning to think it's a good idea. I would not sneak out of town with him. I'd tell everyone and be perfectly open and above board. What do you think it would do to my reputation? I need your advice. — Still Mulling

Dear Still: The trip you have in mind would muddy your reputation without a doubt. While you may mean business about the brother-sister act, nobody would believe it, and frankly, your chances for pulling it off are mighty slim. You will find that for every immobile object, there's an irresistible force.

An old fashioned custom called "marriage" would make the trip completely respectable. I wonder why he hasn't thought of it.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: No earth-shaking problem, this one, but I'd like to help a sweet kid who came to work in this office three weeks ago. She's from a small town and probably doesn't know any better. Every day she comes to work dressed as if she's going to a party. She wears beaded dresses, lace, feathers and fur, and I suspect she has shortened someone's cast-off evening gowns. Should I tell her at the risk of hurting her feelings? — Big Q

Dear Big: Offer to shop with her for some office-type clothes. The "sweet kid" obviously needs a friend. Be one.

Cleverness Might Help Opponents

It doesn't pay to be too clever against a shrewd opponent. By giving you credit for knowing what you are doing he may be able to play the hand as though he saw all of the cards.

spades and South won with the king. Declarer cashed the ace and queen of hearts and then led to dummy's king of hearts. If that suit had broken favorably, South would have taken the first nine tricks.

On the third round of hearts West found the clever discard of the duece of diamonds.

South stopped to think about this because West was too good a player to betray weakness in South's bid suit. It seemed far more likely that West could afford to throw a diamond because he still had the guarded queen. If so, West had surely started the hand with at least four diamonds and either five or six spaces.

Tests Theory

There was no harm in testing this theory, so declarer led out dummy's top clubs. West had to discard a spade, and now South knew that West had started with only two hearts and only one club

The situation was clear. Declarer led dummy's ten of spades, and West could take his four spade tricks. Then he had to lead diamonds, giving South the last three tricks and his contract.

If West had discarded a spade on the third heart, South would have had no clue to the winning line of play. He would probably have tried the diamond finesse at once as his best chance for the contract, and West would have taken a diamond and four spades.

Daily Question

As dealer, you hold: S-A Q J 8 6 5; H-8 5; D-Q 9 5 2; C-Q. What do you say?

Answer: Pass. You seem to have 11 points in high cards, 2 points for the singleton and 1 point for the doubleton, but appearances are deceptive. The singleton queen of clubs is not worth 2 points in high cards and another 2 points as a singleton. It is not a horrible crime to open this hand, but it is a mistake to consider it really worth an opening bid.

HINTS FROM Heloise

BY HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Folks:

So many of you have upright vacuum cleaners that just don't seem to get in the corners of wall-to-wall carpeting when you're in a hurry.

Well, I have one myself and I wouldn't trade it for anything.

Heloise

But let me give you a little hint on what to attach to that vacuum cleaner.

You know there is a little bracket or hook that holds up the top of the bag where it's attached to the handle?

Right there you should attach a whisk broom! If you've got an old one, so much the better. Take your scissors and cut off some of the straws at about a 45 degree angle. The point you will have on one end will get into any kind of corner that you can think of.

Also, you save many, many steps when you get to the sofa or a chair which needs dusting or brushing. All you have to do is unhook it and whisk away. Don't forget to dust the cushions of your chairs. This is where most of the dust falls and cleaning them will save your upholstery.

Another good thing, you always know exactly where that whisk broom is — hanging right on the vacuum cleaner instead of taking up room in a drawer!

And before I quit talking today and while we are on this subject, don't forget that whisk brooms and clothes brushes need to be washed once in a while!

Fill up a bowl with warm sudsy water and beat the whisk broom in it as if you were beating some egg whites for that cake you wish you had time to make. . .

Look at the soiled water. Most amazing, isn't it? If the water is absolutely black, which it most likely will be, pour it out and rinse the whisk broom under the faucet and make another bowl of warm sudsy water. Wash again, then rinse it well and hang it up to dry.

And happy days are here again. I hope today and tomorrow are the best you have had in a long, long time

Love,
Heloise

Dear Heloise:

Do you have trouble with neckline curls when you give yourself a home permanent?

Cut the top from a nylon stocking, stretch it over your head until it is down to the neck. Then push it up to the level at the back where those pesky neckline curlers start.

Slide the rat-tail end of the comb straight across your head and draw down only the hair needed. Then roll away.

This certainly makes this tedious job much easier because the nylon stocking holds the other hair up out of your way.

Well, well, well. And for years I've fought with pesky bobby pins and hair clips. You're great!

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

When sewing laminated material, lay strips of white paper on the top and the bottom of the material. Sew your seams, then tear off the paper.

There's no more pushing and pulling on that material to make it slide in your machine or snags on the expensive material either.

Mrs. Leo Thomas

Dear Heloise:

When you make fruit salad and use bananas, always cover the bowl with plastic wrap. Just press it down all over the top so the air is removed from the bowl. The bananas will not turn dark.

If you keep it covered with the plastic wrap until all is used, not only will it hold its color, but it keeps that fresh taste

Mrs. E. A. Luetzam

Lynn Redgrave to Attend NYC Preview Of 'Smashing Time'

Lynn Redgrave, who stars in Paramount Pictures' "Smashing Time," arrives in New York City on Monday, Dec. 18, to attend a special invitational preview of the madcap, mod comedy.

The color attraction will begin its New York premiere engagement on Wednesday, Dec. 20, at the New Embassy Theater on Broadway, the 68th Street Playhouse and the Murray Hill Theater.

Miss Redgrave, a member of Great Britain's most distinguished acting family, also will meet with representatives of major newspapers, magazines and syndicates and will appear on network and local television and radio programs, discussing her role in "Smashing Time" and her career.

A 1966 Academy Award nominee, she stars with Rita Tushingham in "Smashing Time" and the actresses are being acclaimed as the "distaff Laurel & Hardy" for their antics.

Author Truman Capote and Princess Lee Radziwill, Jacqueline Kennedy's sister, literally stopped the show when they paused for a rest outside Montgomery, Ala., where Capote's "Thanksgiving Visitor" is being filmed for television. Members of the cast stopped acting to speak to the Jet-Set celebrities. (AP Wirephoto)

'Gunsmoke' Not Dead, Surprisingly Alive

Good Thing Network Changed Its Mind; Series Popular Even in Bad Time Slot

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — For a television series once deemed dead and buried, "Gunsmoke" is showing amazing life.

Earlier this year CBS announced that the veteran Western had run its course and was being put out to pasture. Then the network changed its mind and said the series would come back for its 13th season—on Monday night at 7:30. That seemed to the trade like a death sentence, since the early evening juvenile audience was not likely to take to an adult Western.

"I thought we would lose in the new time slot," admits "Gunsmoke" producer John Mantley. "At 7:30 the children are supposed to control the set. And we were up against 'The Monkees' and Chuck Connors with animals—'Cowboy in Africa.'

Producer Surprised

"I was astonished when the first ratings showed us ahead of the other two. I had hoped to start low and then build. Instead, we started high and have climbed. In one recent rating we were No. 6, and no one could have been more surprised than I."

Mantley, asked to analyze the performance, theorized that perhaps the show is now getting the big city audience.

"The pattern of our ratings on Saturday was always the same," he said. "We were seldom in the top 30 of the 30-city Nielsen. But we leaped up in the national ratings. That meant we had a small urban audience, but a large one among suburban and rural viewers.

Citly Viewers Now

"That doesn't seem the case on Monday nights. We seem to get city viewers who found it inconvenient to watch Saturday because they were entertaining or going out."

Mantley believes the quality of "Gunsmoke" has never been higher, largely because the shows have been "heavy Matt." He explained that the shows are categorized as "heavy Matt" or "light Matt," depending on the involvement of Jim Arness, who plays Matt Dillon.

Heavy or Light Matts

"Jim likes to do the 'heavy Matt' shows at the beginning of the season, since they involve a lot of action and he likes to get that out of the way," said the producer. "They are usually the best shows, because 'Gunsmoke' is Matt Dillon, and vice versa.

"Usually the 'heavy Matts' are spread throughout the season. But this year CBS decided to put them on early. That's why the shows have been so good."

The producer is convinced that public outcry caused CBS to rescind its death sentence on "Gunsmoke." He explained: "In many states our show was still No. 1, and several of the affiliated stations in the Midwest were in open revolt."

Hollywood Won't Be Abolished

LOS ANGELES (AP) — City councilmen won't abolish Hollywood after all.

The possibility arose when the council's planning committee recommended rescinding a 1937 ordinance that created boundaries of the movie capital within the city of Los Angeles.

One councilman vowed that if his colleagues abolished Hollywood, he would propose the entire city of Los Angeles be renamed Hollywood.

The vote Thursday to leave Hollywood alone was unanimous.

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®

All Residents of Pleasant Acres, Winnebago County's skilled nursing home, were safe in their new beds at sundown Friday. The possibility of moving into the new $2.5 million, four-level facility, has been the subject of much excitement and conversation for the past several months and the make-ready was slowed down by delayed deliveries of equipment. Everyone ate their dinner there Friday night and the 114 residents had smiles on their faces, even those who had temporarily misplaced a comb, a letter, or a piece of clothing during the week-long move. The 80-member staff worked fast, like those hustling to make a bed above, to keep ahead of the residents as they came through the underground tunnel day by day to their new home. Construction Crew Readies Site To Begin Menasha Library Project

Three Weeks From Deadline For $137,000 Federal Aid

A Few Wooden Stakes and, in the background, the materials for the contractor's work shanty are the first signs that a new library is about to rise on Racine Street Park at the corner of First and Racine streets in Menasha. A P. G. Miron Construction Co. crew began making ready for the project Friday. Their arrival virtually assures meeting a timetable calling for digging to start before year's end for the city to receive $137,000 in federal aid on the $592,500 project. (Post-Crescent Photo)

MENASHA — Construction workers set stakes and began putting up a work shack at the Racine Street Park Friday, making the site ready before they begin building a new public library. They arrived with three weeks to go before a federal aid deadline falls.

The P. G. Miron Construction Co. was chosen a week ago by the library board and board of public works as general contractor.

Efforts to finish plans and award contracts have kept a rapid pace in order to meet a year's end deadline for turning the first earth in the construction project, so the city could receive $137,500 in federal assistance.

Mrs. J. H. Wilterding, library board president, said this morning, "We have met all the requirements for the aid and we are going to receive it."

The aid represents nearly one-fourth of the esitmated total cost of $592,500. The city is preparing to float a $445,000 bond issue, and a $10,000 contribution from the water and light utility will complete the locally financed portion of the cost.

While a requirement to qualify for federal assistance had been to start construction before the end of this year, the terms of the grant also specify that work must progress to the halfway mark by the middle of next year.

Officials were unconcerned about the rest of the schedule, however, saying that the starting date had been their main concern and adding they believed the contractors, once started, will have no trouble meeting the timetable.

"I just can't believe it," said Mrs. Wilterding as she discussed the start of the project. She expressed elation that the work was beginning, adding, "for 10 years we've worked on this."

Mrs. Dorothy Weber, library director, commented, "It seems like a dream."

Both expressed gratitude to the common council and Mayor Kenneth Homes for cooperating to meet the tight schedule by agreeing on plans and approving funds.

Man Leaves $271,758

Youngest Son Gets Bulk of Kalinka Estate

WAUPACA — Final distribution of the $271,758 estate left by the late John E. Kalinka, 76, who owned the Hilltop Farm in the Town of Lind, has been made in Waupaca County Court.

Kalinka, a native of Austria, died there July 26, 1965. Although he had been living in Austria he was a United States citizen. His legal address was listed as Town of Lind.

He had five children including a daughter, Mrs. John Larson, route 1, Waupaca, and Dr. Hans S. Kalinka, Chilton. At the time of his death Kalinka lived with his wife and 7-year-old son in Salzburg, Austria

The bulk of the estate went to his youngest son, who is now 9, his widow and Mrs. Larson. Smaller amounts went to several other relatives and friends. The farm and a house on a four-acre plot in the Town of Lind, according to the will, goes to Mrs. Larson with the stipulation that she use and retain the income from both pieces of property but upon her death the property goes to Kalinka's youngest son, Peter Hans.

The balance of the estate, beside the Town of Lind property, included stocks and bonds, life insurance and a trust fund.

Meeting Postponed

MENASHA — The regular town board meeting, slated for Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the Town of Menasha hall, has been postponed to next Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. to allow town officials to attend a public hearing in Oshkosh.

Youth Takes His Own Life

Brother Finds Boy, Recently Returned From Vietnam Duty

OSHKOSH — A Neenah youth, recently returned from military service in Vietnam, took his own life by shooting, about midnight Friday in the basement of a house under construction south of Neenah, according to Art C. Miller, county coroner.

The youth, was Robert Vought, 19, of 526 S. Commercial St.

Miller said that the body was discovered by Donald Vought, a brother of the dead youth. The shooting occurred at the family's new home that was still under construction, Miller said.

Vought had been treated at a Chicago hospital before returning to Neenah after his Vietnam duty, Miller said.

The youth's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Vought.

City Takes Less of Tax $1

WINNECONNE — The gross tax rate adopted by the village board this year shows a boost of $7 per $1,000 assessed vaulation on property, standing at $37.

The rate that will be paid by property owners will be reduced $2.11, however, by the state tax credit, according to trustee Jack Gruwell, yielding a net rate of $34.89.

A breakdown of the total tax rate shows village expenses claiming $11 08 per $1,000 assessed valuation: local school costs, $19.10; county and state taxes, $4.66; vocational school tax to Vocational, Technical and Adult education (VTE-12), $1.33; trust fund paid the county for school debt, 70 cents; tuition cost, 19 cents

Gruwell commented that of each dollar of taxes spent, the past three annual budgets have contained progressively less for village cost and more each year for education.

He said that in 1966, the tax dollar paid 47.7 cents toward village expenses and 42 1 cents for education. The 1967 amounts were 37.6 cents, village, and 49 1 cents, schools. The current tax dollar will provide 30 cents for village operations and 57.4 for education, including vocational, Gruwell said.

There Was Considerable Excitement among the children at Winnebago Day School, Menasha, this past week when the fourth graders produced an old favorite, "Sleeping Beauty." Vickie Pansy, left, is shown here in the role of the "good fairy" and Kalen Krueger, right, is the Queen, holding "Sleeping Beauty" in her arms. The stage play was written and produced from the original story by Vickie — for which she received a rousing round of applause from her classmates and teachers.

Squad Car Kills Deer in Chase on 76

Damage was extensive but an Outagamie County police patrolman escaped injury when the 1968 squad car he was driving struck and killed a deer during a high speed chase on State 76, four miles northwest of Shiocton about 1:25 a.m. today.

Driver of the car was Thomas Janusheske, 26, 107 N. Durkee St., Appleton. Damage to the squad car was estimated at $1.000.

Janusheske said he was stopped at States 76 and 54 when he observed a car traveling west on 54 at a high speed. He said the car turned onto 76, nearly setriking the squad car, then continued north on 76. Janusheske said he started after the car, a 1963 green and white Pontiac. The red lights and siren were in operation on the squad car, according to the report.

Janusheske said he was near County Trunk FF when a deer jumped out from the ditch into the path of the car. The deer was killed. The car Janusheske was pursuing did not stop

Here's a Boy with a Pie as big as his appetite. For Vietnam Ade

'Project Concern' Begun By Students at Conant

NEENAH — The 770 boys and girls at Conant Junior High School sent 600 letters to business and industry and individual citizens in Neenah to join them in "Project Concern" — their answer to the protest marchers and the draft-card burners opposing the war in Vietnam.

Project Concern is a redoubling of the Conant students efforts to provide Kool-Aid for the military in Vietnam. Last year in an all-school project, they collected $234 and this year they are making it a city-wide campaign

"Remember, every nickel sent means another G. I. will not have to put up with discomfort of Viet Nam's foul tasting water," a representative commented.

"It may seem like a small discomfort, but it is a big opportunity for us to show our concern."

The school solicitation for money will be Slave Day scheduled for Tuesday. Students will purchase tickets at five cents each, or six for 25 cents, with the object for one student to have more tickets than any other student so he doesn't end up "a slave."

With a ticket pinned on shirt or blouse, a student may either make someone his slave, or become a slave himself

The "slave," or loser, must carry all of the winner's books to class, and if the slave is late to his next class, must forfeit one ticket for each minute he is late.

Jean LeMay is general chairman for Project Concern. Doug Rasmussen, Al Lindsten, Pam Reese, Tim Acheson and Mike Strebe are handling parts of the scheduling and handling funds.

Pat Magdic is chairman of Slave Day. The committee members are Tom Anderson, Sandy Mischler and Jeff Nicholas.

Miss Eugenia Kiryakkis is student advisor.

$1 Pay Raise Recommended For Deputies

Law Enforcement Committee Favors $2.50 Per Hour

The Outagamie County Board's law enforcement committee Friday afternoon voted unanimously to recommend to the executive committee that pay for special deputies be hiked to $2.50 per hour.

The law enforcement unit had earlier recommended the pay be raised from $1.50 to $2.50 per hour, but the move was rejected by the board's personnel committee, which reportedly favored $2 per hour.

The Outagamie County Deputy Sheriff's Association, meeting last Monday, set a special meeting for Dec. 12 to decide on a course of action in attempts to get the county board to raise fees for special deputies. Indications were that the deputies association would ask for a meeting with county officials following the Dec. 12 special session.

Dispute Began

The special deputy pay dispute began with the refusal by the personnel committee to approve $2.50 per hour for deputies called by Sheriff Norbert Marx to work Labor Day weekend at KK Sports Arena near Kaukauna. Their pay is being held up pending the dispute.

In other business Friday, the law enforcement committee learned that 17 applications have been received for the position of county process server, a newly-created post in the sheriff's department. The committee delayed action on the applications.

Goes to Committee Dec. 20

Outagamie Flood Plain Law Nears Completion

Outagamie County's flood plain zoning ordinance is expected to be ready for approval Dec. 20 by the county board's committee on agriculture and extension education, Chairman Stanley Perkins reported Friday.

The county planning commission met with the agricultural committee Thursday night and reviewed individual town maps which had been classified according to flood plain characteristics and potential use.

A number of town chairmen will be meeting with the committee during the interim to consider possible changes. Counties are facing a Jan. 1 deadline on the ordinance as set by the state in its new Water Resources Act.

In other committee activity, Soil Conservationist Vernon Geiger said a preliminary engineering survey was ready on the proposed pond for its Outagamie County Hospital grounds. He said the project would cost the county about $200 for culvert and gate which controls the water level in the pond.

The Army Corps of Engineers would be asked to perform the work. The new facility would be developed from an existing but dormant pond already on the property.

Geiger said the pond could be developed and stocked with fish but ruled out its use for swimming because of effluent draining into the area from septic tanks in the area of County Trunks OO and A north of the hospital.

When the city of Appleton discontinues the old city home on Spencer Street several years from now, an addition to the county facility will be needed to accommodate the influx of patients. The fishing pond would provide an added source of recreation.

Work has been completed on the Koepke Access by Landwehr, Inc., of Appleton and will be checked out by Geiger and Russell Luckow, county agricultural agent, to see that it meets specifications.

Meanwhile, the contract for a 750-foot streambank stabilization project at the Barker Access has been awarded to Murphy Construction Co. of Black Creek. The back slope has been shaped but further work is delayed until the ground freezes.

Sizeable drainage projects have been completed or started this year, Geiger reported. One surface drain job stretched 13,610 feet and another 12,300 feet. Tiling jobs measuring 40,000 and 39,195 feet have been completed in the county.

Several streambank stabilization jobs will be started when the ground freezes including a $6,000 project east of New London, on the Wolf River.

Outagamie Board Faces Airport Expansion Decision

Resolution Will Ask Funding for Additions Requested by Firm Proposing to Use Facility

Outagamie County Board supervisors will be faced Tuesday with a decision on whether to meet the conditions of an industrial firm for that company to locate its corporate aircraft at the Outagamie County Airport.

The company, whose name has not been released, has requested a hangar be built, a 500 foot overrun added to the northeast-southwest runway, and that an apron, parking area and service road be provided by Jan. 1, 1969, when the firm's airplanes would be moved.

They also want assurance the southeast-northwest runway will be extended from 5,200 feet to 6,000 feet by 1971 and that the county will immediately apply to the Federal Aviation Agency (FAA) for a control tower and an Instrument Landing System (ILS).

Cost of Work

Cost of the work to be done by 1969, exclusive of the hangar, has been estimated at about $180,000. Hangar cost is estimated between $500,000 and $650,000.

The resolution that will come before the board would empower the executive committee to provide the necessary financing, giving an estimated total cost of $730,000. Actual costs would not be known until bids are taken.

Cost of the hangar would be returned to the county over a 30-year period by the firm in the form of rental. Cost of the other work would be borne by the county.

Mosquito Hill

The subject of Mosquito Hill also is expected to come before the board again.

A resolution asking $75,000 for purchase of more than 400 acres of land on and around the hill for a county park was laid over at the November session of the board. The Parks and Recreation Committee is expected to ask for action on the resolution, possibly amending the amount of money requested to a lower figure to cover acquisition of land now under option.

Board members toured the hill site after controversy developed over attempted acquisition of one of the parcels of land.

Rezoning Requests

Two rezoning requests will be considered, both in the Town of Dale. One will be to rezone land from agriculture to commercial and the other from agriculture to light industry.

The zoning board has recommended the petition of Franklin Hanselman to rezone land on Depot Road to light industry be denied. They recommended passage of rezoning of land on U.S. 10, between Winchester Road and Shaky Lake Road, from agriculture to commercial. Petitioner for the rezoning is Edward Herzfeldt.

Air Wisconsin Service To Wausau Draws Marshfield Protests

City Asked to Reconsider in Favor of Midstate Commuter

Air Wisconsin, Inc. plans to serve the City of Wausau have brought protests from the mayor of nearby Marshfield, home of another commuter airline, Midstate Air Commuter Service.

In a talk given at Wausau, Marshfield Mayor Anderson Connor asked Wausau airline users to either reconsider their decision requesting Air Wisconsin service or offer passenger support to both Air Wisconsin and Midstate Air Commuter Service.

Air Wisconsin service at Wausau is expected to start shortly after Jan. 1 with daily flights, with stops at Appleton, Milwaukee and Chicago

Considerable Irritation

Connor said "there is considerable irritation in Marshfield over the decision" to request Air Wisconsin service over Midstate.

He described Midstate as a "proven, profit-making enterprise which has given dependable service to the Marshfield area," and suggested that both airlines might provide flights at Wausau.

The request for Air Wisconsin service was made by the Wausau Chamber of Commerce after its transportation committee compiled results of a survey of prospective and existing users of air service in that region.

List Advantages

The air service study report noted the broader financial and management base of Air Wisconsin and its plans to offer all jet-prop service by mid-1968 as among the advantages.

Connor said "we feel the stability of Midstate has been overshadowed by Air Wisconsin's board of directors. Midstate is not a one-man operation."

The study leading to the request for service was made after North Central Airlines cut back service to Wausau when DC-9 jets were put into service earlier this fall Airline service at Wausau will eventually be switched to a new central airport near Mosinee.

PSC Orders Utility to Service Buchanan Lot

Combined Locks, Kimberly Commission, Opposed Hookup Outside Village Limits

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — The Kimberly Water Utility, which services Combined Locks, must offer water service to a Town of Buchanan lot owned by Marvin Zwick, the State Public Service Commission has ordered.

The utility had opposed supplying the water service on the grounds that it would lead to demands for service and increase costs on the water supplied by the utility. The Combined Locks Village Board also has opposed annexing the lot, arguing that the annexing of such small pieces of property was not financially sound.

Zwick has sought the water service for a lot east of his present home and east of De-Bruin Road in the town. The lot abuts County Trunk K.

Sought Solution

Zwick has sought annexation as a solution to the problem, but was refused by the village board which said the move would not be compatible with the overall plan of the village planning committee.

The lot is located on a corner and abuts an existing Combined Locks water main. In 1961 the village formally agreed with the Kimberly water utility not to offer additional water service to people living outside of the Combined Locks limits to keep service demands down.

Cost Estimate

A well driller has estimated that a private well system would cost at least $2,000 and would have to descend at least 300 to 350 feet. A suitable well, supplying water free of sulphur, would have to reach at least 400 feet in the area, the driller has stated.

Zwick plans to build a duplex home on the lot and sought water service before applying for the building permit

In the past, before the Kimberly-Combined Locks formal agreement, water service was offered to outlying areas adjacent to exisiting mains.

The commission said that in the Zwick case, the utility has an obligation to offer the service, but that the ruling applies only to the individual action and not to any similar situations that might exist elsewhere in the area.
